U.S. LOSING LEADERSHIP, KENNEDY SAYS

Lumumba Action Nipped by Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo's strong man, appeared today to have nipped in the bud the latest move by flamboyant Patrice Lumumba to rally public support.

After the deposed premier's trip through Leopoldville's native quarter Sunday night, Mobutu today ordered Lumumba's residence ringed with 200 Congolese soldiers.

There was a brief scuffle as

Russian Premier Leaving Thursday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations awaited

Premier Khrushchev's next appearance before the General Assembly, probably tonight, after hearing him say once more, "We shall never start a war."

Khrushchev made the statement Sunday night on a television and radio interview, "Open End," in New York.

The Soviet premier said he is going home Thursday. In the next four days he is expected to take every opportunity to further publicize the many proposals he has advanced, formally and informally, since he came to the Assembly, three weeks ago.

They include reorganizing the U.N., replacing Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, admitting Red China, another summit conference, a plan for disarmament, and a special session of the Assembly — meeting somewhere in Europe, not in New York — to discuss disarmament.

Most of the international high brass will have gone from New York before the end of the week.

Prime Minister Nehru of India left Sunday night for London. He said he was "a little disappointed" in the present session of the Assembly, adding, "but by and large I'm glad I came."

Commenting on Khrushchev's attacks on Hammarskjöld, Nehru said "I think the present Secretary-General should continue, but I do think the Secretary-General himself, should consider how to broaden his organization at the top."

Khrushchev's televised interview lasted more than two hours, but it was largely a warm-over of the things he has been saying in and out of the Assembly.

Some Of Main Points

These were some of his main points:

1. "We shall never start a war. We do not need a war. Categorically, we shall never start a war. So you can sleep in peace."

2. The Soviet Union "already has proposed" an agreement to embargo arms shipments to other countries. "We are ready to sign an agreement with you right now."

3. The U2 flights proved that President Eisenhower was not sincere in saying he wanted peace.

4. Just before he left Moscow for the U.N., he received "definite information" that the United States was about to send another U2 over Soviet territory. He said he warned Llewellyn Thompson, American ambassador to the Soviet Union, that the plane would be shot down. Thereafter, he concluded, American authorities cancelled the flight.

5. He won't agree to a U. N. investigation of the American

Judge Tobin Places Two on Probation

LISBON—Two adults from East Liverpool were placed on probation at hearings this morning before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Mrs. Thelma Ward, 41, and Herbert V. Mellett, 18, were placed on probation for contributing to the delinquency of juveniles. Mellett's probation was contingent on his entering the armed forces. He was involved in drinking with the two juveniles and ransacking a car at Higg's Tavern on Rt. 30 several weeks ago.

A 17-year-old was found not guilty of ransacking the auto, but the other 17-year-old was found guilty and was turned over to the Welfare Department.

soldiers drove back several dozen Lumumba supporters with rifle butts. One shot was fired into the air. Ten of the pro-Lumumba crowd were taken into custody. One or two were reported slightly injured by the rough and determined action of the soldiers.

Mobutu told one of his officers: "Nobody must go in or go out." As soon as Mobutu left, Lumumba walked out on his balcony and shouted: "I am not a prisoner. I am still master. The people are still with me."

There were no further incidents. A little later Mobutu ordered the troop strength around Lumumba's home cut to 50 men.

Soldiers told reporters that they had been ordered to the residence to "prevent Lumumba from making politics."

They said they had no orders to arrest Lumumba but that they were there to prevent his political friends and Parliament members from getting into the house.

"Emeri! (savior) emeri!" crowds of Africans screamed at the 34-year-old ex-premier as he drove about the city yesterday in a limousine with an escort of the Ghana and Moroccan soldiers of the U.N. force who guard his villa on the banks of the Congo.

Stopping at many of the city's bars, the political leader called on the population to rally behind him and help him drive U.N. troops out of the Congo.

"We don't need any foreign soldiers in the Congo," Lumumba told newsmen. "I am taking the power. I am ready to die for it."

Lumumba's motorcade was joined by two jeeps of Col. Joseph Mobutu's military police. Mobutu, army chief of staff, deposed Lumumba on Sept. 11 and replaced him by a governing council of technicians. Presumably he sent the MPs along to see that Lumumba confined himself to speech making.

Observers were startled by the acclaim Lumumba received from the population, which previously has supported the anti-Lumumba Abako party. Some Africans are complaining Mobutu has not solved the country's numerous grave problems.

In Elisabethville, capital of secessionist Katanga province, provincial Premier Moise Tshombe denounced Belgium for failing to recognize Katanga as an independent state.

Katanga's huge mines are the most important Belgian holding left in the Congo, and thousands of Belgians still are working in the province, which has generally been considered pro-Belgian.

Tshombe, who advocates a loose federation of the Congo provinces, asserted in an interview that Belgian insistence on a unified Congo was responsible for the chaos that followed independence.

3½ Million Register to Vote In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown announced a voter registration total of 3,582,920 today, but said the figure still is not official.

He also predicted a record 4,100,000 turnout at the polls Nov. 8. Many county boards of election still are weeding out duplications, Brown said, and therefore the 3,582,920 figure must be unofficial. But he said it "is based on fairly accurate estimates made on previous experience in each county in the percentage of duplications."

Ohio's highest total vote was 3,761,222 in the 1956 presidential year. Registration in 1958 was 3,258,080, and the vote was 3,295,910.

In the 28 counties that have countywide registration, Brown reported these unofficial figures:

Allen 47,174, Butler 87,529, Clark 60,211, Clermont 34,255, Cuyahoga 824,632, Erie 28,656, Fairfield 31,150, Franklin 308,873, Greene 36,118, Hamilton 425,750, Lawrence 26,804, Licking 41,560, Lorain 89,025, Lucas 222,329, Mahoning 153,547, Marion 28,459, Medina 29,150, Montgomery 236,285, Pickaway 13,433, Pike 9,650, Ross 26,514, Sandusky 24,692, Scioto 45,347, Stark 162,366, Summit 241,230, Trumbull 100,156, Warren 24,735 and Wood 32,800.

Thirteen other counties have partial registration.

76 More Blood Donors Needed

Program Faces Cancellation Here

An appeal for 76 more new volunteers for Wednesday's visit of the Cleveland Regional Bloodmobile at the First Methodist Church is being made by the local Red Cross Chapter.

The chapter is faced with the danger of losing the benefits of the Red Cross Blood Program because of repeated failure to meet the quota of 125 pints at collections here, Louis Raymond, newly appointed over-all chairman of the Northern Columbiana County Blood Program, said.

Only 100 volunteers have registered for Wednesday's visit, and at least 176 prospective donors are needed to meet the quota, Raymond stated.

The collection will take place between noon and 6 p.m., allowing for appointments, after working hours, Mrs. Hobart Butcher, executive director of the local chapter, said.

The United Steel Workers will sponsor the canteen, which is headed by Mrs. Z. R. Taylor and Mrs. Albert Hanna.

Mrs. Butcher reminds local citizens that anyone in good health between the ages of 18 and 59 is able to register as a prospective donor in an effort to satisfy the requirements of the Cleveland Regional Blood Center.

In a recent communication to Mrs. Butcher, Ralph DeLuco, administrative director of the Center, pointed out "For the fiscal year of July 1, 1959, to June 30, 1960, your chapter produced 1,246 pints of blood and during this same period, the center distributed to your chapter, 1,499 pints. We hope that your chapter will take the necessary and positive action where indicated so that the blood program will improve during the current year."

Mrs. Butcher explained that these requirements must be met if the blood program is to be continued here.

3,500 Pickets on Duty Today

Nonstrikers Enter GE Headquarters Plant

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—The striking International Union of Electrical Workers permitted nonstrikers to enter the General Electric Co. plant here today for the first time since the union posted pickets last Thursday.

John Shambo, president of Local 301, said the local's executive board had decided Sunday it would be unfair to continue barring salaried workers because salaried workers were entering struck GE plants elsewhere.

Shambo also said the local had proved that it could close the plant, which is GE headquarters. Last week, city officials declared a state of emergency after violence.

The union estimated at least 3,500 pickets were on duty today but said they had been instructed not to bar entry.

More violence had been feared here and in Syracuse, N. Y., but none was reported in either city this morning as the union's nationwide strike against the company entered its second week.

The number of employees who reported for work in each city was not determined immediately.

In Syracuse, several strikers drove their automobiles inside GE's Electronics Park, parked them so they would block the gates, locked the cars and left.

Company security guards summoned tow trucks and had the cars hauled to the plant parking

Man Lost In Lake Erie As Outboard Upsets

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Coast guardsmen searched in Lake Erie near the Cedar Point light today for the body of a Morrow County man whose 16-foot outboard motor boat capsized Sunday afternoon.

The missing man was John Oyster, 50, of Shauk.

Kenneth Schaffer, 30, stepson of Oyster, said they were out on the lake to see how rough it was and found it so rough they headed back into Sandusky Bay when their craft upset. Coast guardsmen rescued Schaffer who held to the overturned boat.

9 Are Injured In Accidents

2 Columbiana Youths Are Among Victims

A 14-year-old Columbiana boy who was run over by a car after he was thrown from a horse was badly hurt and eight other persons suffered less serious injuries in four separate accidents on a highway over the weekend.

James H. Mong, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Mong of RD 2, Columbiana, is listed in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital today with a laceration of the left eye, bruises over his entire body, and a possible fractured left leg.

The youth fell from his horse and was run over by a car at 3 p.m. on Rt. 14, three miles east of Columbiana.

The State Highway Patrol said the boy was riding east on his horse when the animal backed into the trailer section of a truck which was attempting to pass the horse. The jolt knocked the boy onto the highway where he was run over by a car which was following the truck.

The truck involved was driven by Ralph H. Stringer, 41, of Pittsburgh, and the car by Louis Farjoli, 42, of Darlington, Pa. Neither driver was held. The horse received lacerations of the leg.

Miss Bonnie Boone, 15, of RD 1, Columbiana is in "good" condition at Salem City Hospital with lacerations of the face suffered in a one-car accident at 12:25 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Rts. 14 and 165.

Car Runs Into Pole
She was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Eva Boone, who the State Patrol said attempted to turn left onto Rt. 165 but swung too wide and struck a utility pole. Mrs. Boone had a front tooth broken off and another passenger, Tom Boone, 4, suffered lacerations of his face. Neither was hospitalized.

10,000 Turn Out Here for Senator

By RALPH FRATILA

Sen. John F. Kennedy Sunday night at Reilly Stadium hammered away on a theme he has stressed repeatedly during his campaign: the United States is not moving ahead fast enough compared to Russia.

Addressing a crowd estimated at about 10,000, many of whom had waited more than three hours for his late arrival, the Democratic candidate for President flailed his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, for his expressed "satisfaction" on the course of the country's foreign policy.

"I am not satisfied," Sen. Kennedy declared. "I think we can do much better. I think we must move ahead much faster if we are to hold our lead. For the test is not mere survival. The test is world leadership for the decade of the sixties."

Citing Saturday's vote in the United Nations General Assembly as evidence that world leadership is slipping away from the United States, the Massachusetts senator said:

"Yesterday the United Nations General Assembly voted on the question of admitting Red China. The United States won — but by the narrowest margin we have ever had. In yesterday's vote 34 nations voted against us. In 1952, 44 nations voted against us. In 1952, 44 nations voted against us. In 1952, 44 nations voted against us."

"And of the 44 per cent of the nations voting against us," Sen. Kennedy stated, "the new nations of Africa and of Asia — the nations of the future — were especially heavy in voting against the American position."

"In yesterday's vote," he emphasized, "only two African countries voted for us. Out of 24 nations on the newest continent, eight voted against us and 14 abstained."

Hits Administration
Showing none of the strain of his grueling campaign schedule, Sen. Kennedy, who had spoken in Youngstown and Warren earlier in the day, criticized his opponent and the administration on a score of domestic and foreign issues.

But he returned again and again to his contention that Vice President Nixon is dangerously mistaken in his satisfaction with America's prestige and position in world affairs.

"Last week in the United Nations there was another test," he said, "a vote on a proposal by the neutralist nations to force a meeting between the President and Mr. Khrushchev."

"We won that vote — but only because a two-third majority was required. We mustered 37 votes on our side. Forty-one countries, not including any Communist nations, voted against us."

"And," Sen. Kennedy stressed, "not a single one of the new countries of Africa voted with the United States. More than a score of African countries voted against us."

Test of Prestige? He Asks
"If that is a test of prestige," he declared, "then this country is in serious trouble."

The Democratic candidate, whose view of the importance of Ohio in the election is attested to by the fact that Sunday's was his fourth trip into the state, told the audience, "You people here in Salem must form your own judgment about whether the present leadership is moving America ahead."

"If you believe we can do better, if you believe we must do better, then with your cooperation we will rebuild the spirit of our nation and carry our country to new greatness."

Touching on the domestic front, Sen. Kennedy lashed the Republicans for their stand against Congressional proposals for medical aid to the aged and an increase in the minimum hourly wage to $1.25 from $1.

He hit on a subject close to home when he asserted that one-third of the nation's steelworkers were either idle or working part-time.

The senator also commented accusingly on the plight under the Republican administration of the pottery industry, most of which is concentrated in the Salem-East Liverpool area, and on the pollution of rivers in the Ohio Valley.

Gives Hays Support
Sen. Kennedy lauded 18th District Congressman Wayne L. Hays who is seeking re-election against Atty. Walter J. Hunston of Salem, stating the congressman and he were in agreement on the basic issues of the campaign. "Together we stand for the program of the future," he said.

The senator concluded his address by urging the support of the audience at the polls. "I ask your help," he said, "in building the strength of our country. I ask you to look to the future."

Included in Sen. Kennedy's entourage last night was Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The governor

U.S. Faces Harder Time In U.N. On Cold War Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States will have a harder time getting together enough votes to pass resolutions on cold war issues in the U. N. General Assembly.

This was shown Saturday when the Assembly, for the 10th straight year, approved a U. S. resolution to defer the issue of seating Communist China. The resolution squeaked through by a mere eight votes. That compared with 15 a year earlier and 35 in 1952. The tally was 42-34, and there were 22 abstentions.

Plainly, what the Soviet Union calls the Americans' "mechanical majority" no longer worked. Soviet Premier Khrushchev himself said on TV Sunday night, "There will come a time when the United States will be in a minority."

What is the reason for this trend? Why did support of the United States on the Red China issue slip from 44-29 last year to 42-34 this year?

For one thing, Malaya and Laos shifted from "yes" to "abstention," Cuba and Ethiopia from "abstention" to "no."

But the biggest danger to the U. S. majority was seen in the actions of 16 new U. N. members—15 African countries and Cyprus. Thirteen abstained. The other three—Mali, Nigeria and Senegal—voted against the American resolution.

If nine of those 13 abstainers vote with those other three next year, the United States will lose—and the Assembly will be open to proposals to seat Communist China.

In 1955, 16 new members were taken into the United Nations. The percentage voting in the Assembly in favor of the U. S. moratorium resolution skidded from 77 to 66. This year another 16 came in—and the percentage slipped to 56.

The United States must woo the new delegates—invite them to parties, go to their parties, persuade them, compromise with them. The Soviet Union will be wooing them just as hard.

The United States once was in a strong position because it was linked with a large majority of the U. N. membership through military alliances and was giving economic or military aid to others.

But recent new members are not allied to the United States by military pacts. And the United States has given up economic leverage on them by announcing that it favors channeling aid to Africa through the United Nations—rather than providing it on a nation-to-nation basis.

SAYS COUNTRY STRONG

CLEVELAND (AP)—This country is in good shape from a military standpoint, Sen. Frank J. Lausche told Bay Village residents at the opening of the city's sesquicentennial celebration.

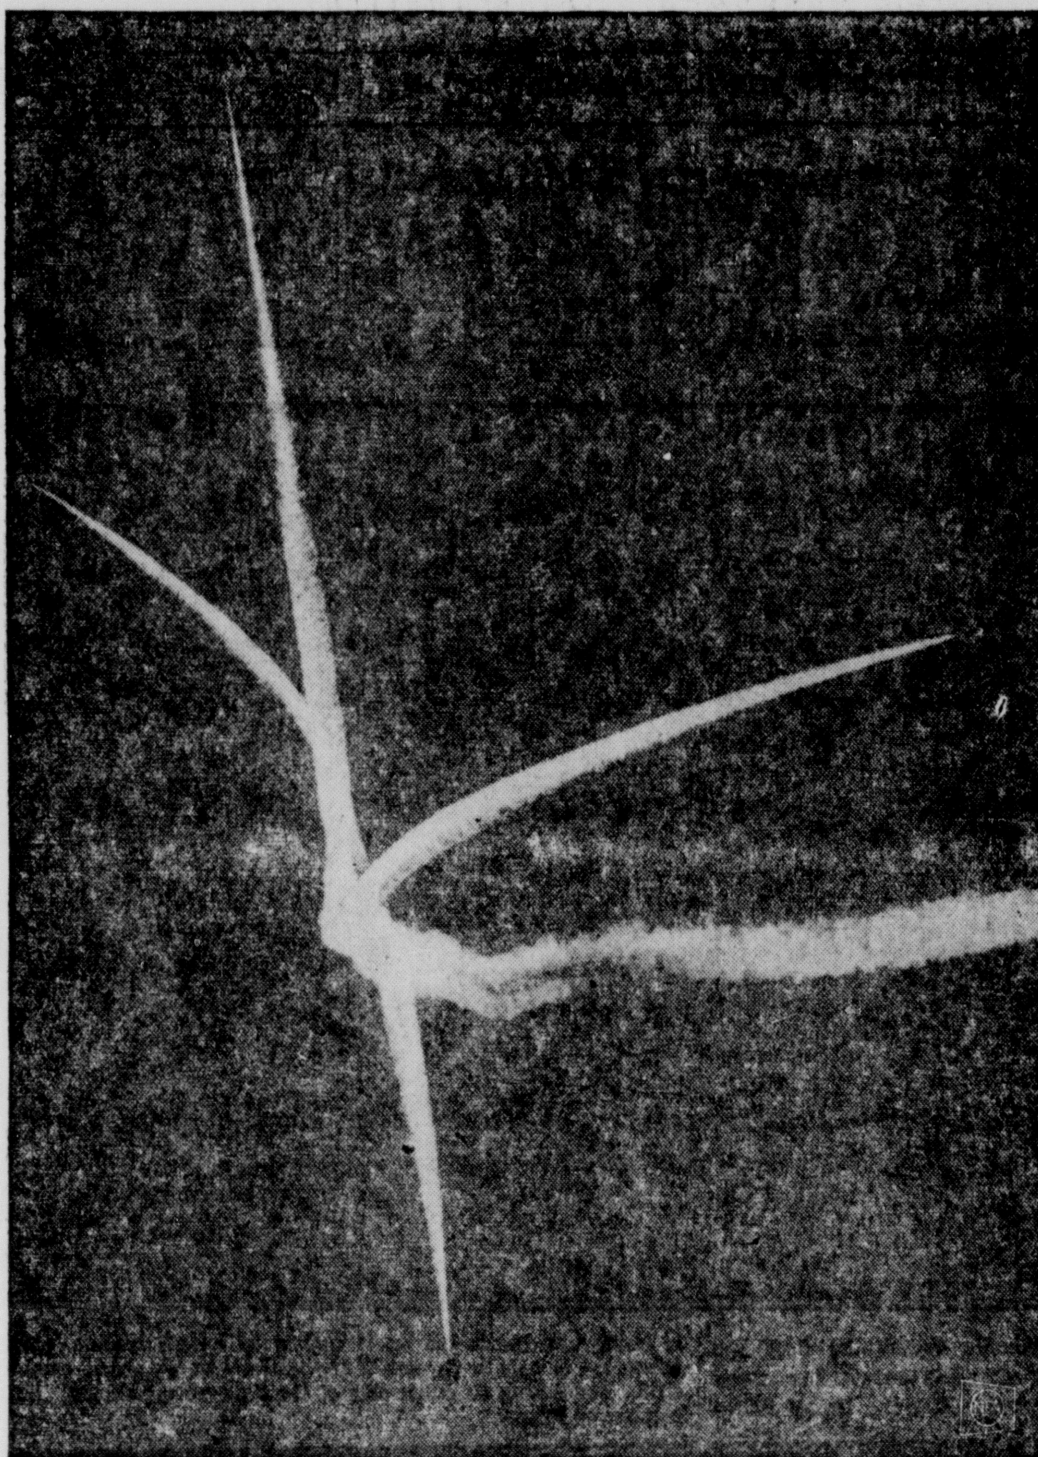

Lausche said he believes the United States has the strength to withstand any Soviet attack and release a counterattack that would defeat the communists.

The democratic senator did not touch on politics in Sunday's speech. He referred at one point to the "last decade of alleged prosperity, during which the national debt has not been reduced."

Nixon to Strike Out More Sharply as Election Nears

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon starts today on the final four fateful weeks in which he thinks this extremely close presidential election will be won or lost.

During this last month Nixon expects to hit out much more often, and much more sharply, at his Democratic foe, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Nixon tried something new in politicking today: a full scale speech at the incredible hour of 7:40 a.m., Billings time. After Billings, his schedule called for a speech in Denver and then on to Salt Lake City for a talk in the Mormon Tabernacle tonight. Mrs. Nixon planned to fly from Washington, D. C., and join him in Denver.

Nixon spent a comparatively restful Sunday, during which he made news by wandering alone around Billings, and by finding himself so embarrassed for ready money that he had to make a $2.50 touch.

Nixon used most of the afternoon polishing a 750-word statement, in which he summed up where he thinks he and Kennedy chiefly differ, and to sizing up the campaign so far.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's news secretary, told reporters the vice president is convinced the decision is still up in the air.

But, Klein said, "we expect to win it in the next four weeks." According to Klein, Nixon is banking heavily on making political hay on this Western swing. He gave this rundown on what Nixon thinks about key Western states:

California (32 electoral votes)—Nixon thinks he has slight lead, but it could go either way.
Colorado (6 electoral votes)—Close, and highly important.

Arizona (4 electoral votes)—Much encouraged by recent polls taken there by newspapers.

Klein was asked if he expected Nixon to begin waging a give-embell campaign.
"I'd expect the debate to sharpen up," he said. "We have intended to intensify the campaign. Nixon got the most attention Sunday merely by meandering off by himself."

Early risers were startled to see the vice president moseying bareheaded in the cold and the rain, peering into shop windows. This was all the more surprising because Nixon has a slight cold.

Strolling around, Nixon dropped into a motel restaurant for breakfast, and into the First Methodist church to hear Dr. Vern Q. Klingman talk on a subject he often uses himself: peace.

As he was leaving his room, Nixon noticed he was shy of cash and borrowed two silver dollars and a fifty-cent piece from Dennis Holm, a local detective assigned to watch him.

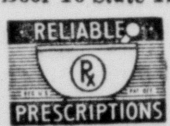

Klein said, and Holm confirmed, that the debt was promptly repaid.

The motto "In God We Trust" first appeared on U.S. coins in 1964.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You are far more likely to die from a blood transfusion than a commercial airplane crash. Americans now have 5½ million transfusions annually. The fatality rate is about 1 in 1,000.

It's cheaper to have your teeth fixed when young. Three out of five U. S. dentists charge lower fees for children than adults.

Civilization requires someone to be on duty at all times. Now 16 per cent of the nation's workers perform their chores between 9 at night and 6 in the morning.

Celebrity oddities: Polly Bergen's full name is Polly Nellie Paulina Burgin Fields. Playwright Tennessee Williams has an ambition to be a successful songsmith: He has written the lyrics to three tunes, and is now a member of ASCAP.

Item for dieters: Medical analysts list 11 men and 6 women who weighed over 700 pounds. The champ: Miles Darden, a 19th Century Tennesseean who tipped the scales at more than 1,000 pounds.

Bowling is getting to be one of the nation's more coeducational sports. The game now has 16 million men players and 11 million women fans.

Nature lore: Can you name the only bird that walks upright like a man, and the only fish that swims upright? They are the penguin and the sea horse.

The cost of government: In 1885 each American's share of federal taxes was about $1.98. Today it costs more than that to get someone to fill out your tax return.

Sign in a medical building: "Patients will please refrain from exchanging symptoms. It only gets the doctors confused."

A good reason: Michigan abolished capital punishment in 1846 after a prisoner, convicted and executed, later was proved to have been innocent.

There's money in stamps. Inadvertently, a 24-cent stamp issued in 1918 was printed upside down. A corner block of four of these stamps is now valued at up to $35,000.

Cloud-high but sober: The average airline passenger doesn't drink while aloft. Records of national airlines show an average of only 17 drinks served per flight—on planes holding from 44 to 129 passengers.

Have you heard this before? Because of their poorly developed vocal cords, giraffes communicate with each other mainly by switching their tails.

The price of success: "There is plenty of room at the top," says

Rosina Pagan, "but there is no room to sit down."

How things are done: A management report found that of the 130 letters a day the average company president gets, here is what happens to them: 50 per cent never even reach his eye. He takes some kind of action on 35 (including throwing some into the wastebasket). And 15 per cent he passes on to others to handle as they decide.

It was Alfred E. Smith who observed: "The American people never carry an umbrella. They prepare to walk in eternal sunshine."

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—For years, "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss.

Conference Held At Fairfield School

FAIRFIELD—"What We Want from Our Schools" was the topic of a state house conference for residents of the Fairfield-Waterford School District held Friday evening at the Fairfield School.

Mrs. Eleanor Bretz and Jack Beilhart were co-chairmen for the conference.

Two representatives from the school district will be chosen to attend a state meeting in Columbus late this year.

The next district conference is planned for Nov. 14 at the New Waterford Building. The topic is, "How Do We Get What We Want from Our Schools?"

AIRPORT IS DEDICATED

CLEVELAND (AP)—Nearly 25,000 persons turned out for the dedication Sunday of Cleveland's lakefront airport. Among the speakers was Thomas A. Burke, a former mayor and former U.S. senator, whose name the airport bears. A new million-dollar terminal at the airport is unfinished, but city officials wanted the public to see it in hopes they would realize the importance of passing a $4 million for lakefront development.

Try Using Dip Method for Painting Around the House

Automobile ads made interesting reading, especially the descriptions of how bodies are dipped in paint so that every part will be rust-proofed.

Windows Give Today's Homes More Beauty

"Home buyers like bright interiors, pleasant outdoor views and attractive, accessible patios. Windows are the key to daylight and beauty in the home," says Practical Builder, a magazine for professional builders.

Since windows are a strategic part of the house, often forming a complete wall, they should be chosen with care. Practical Builder cites the following checkpoints for good window planning:

Will the windows be easy to clean? Easy to operate? Are they weather-tight when closed and will they keep rain out when open? How about insulating qualities — do they need single or double panes? Should they be positioned high or low on the wall?

A helpful guide in choosing good windows is the seal of the American Wood Window Institute, which is accepted as proof that FHA standards are met. No window bearing the seal has ever been reported as failing in use. The seal can be found on stock windows of ponderosa pine at local building supply centers.

Windows of ponderosa pine are factory treated to be water-resistant and vermin-, rot-, and termite-proof. They keep construction costs down because they're ready to be installed when delivered.

Stock wood windows are available in many styles and sizes ranging from small units that can form ribbon strips set high for privacy, to complete walls of windows that make an attractive view part of indoor living.

If the method is good enough for a large manufacturer, why not the home handy man?

Handy for Handles

Next time you paint cabinets, try dip painting the wooden knobs and handles. All you need is a small container for paint (the original can may do) and a method of lowering and raising the item being painted.

A screw or bolt run into the back of the knob and a string attached will work—but be careful not to get paint in the threads of the bolt or screw. If the hole goes all the way through, thread a piece of string or wire through all of the knobs and dip them all at once.

If you use the latter method pour the paint into a large shallow container.

Stain, Too

The same method can be used for staining as well as painting. And the finish coat of varnish or lacquer can be put on by dipping with no sign of a brush mark.

The size and shape of the tank for your paint will determine the sort of work you can do. Fence pickets, garden tool handles, dowel rods need something deep. A length of downspout or piece of narrow stove pipe is ideal.

Close up one end by soldering a piece of sheet metal (end of a tin can) to it. Leave some extra metal around the pipe and you can fasten the whole affair with screws to a large piece of scrap lumber so that it can stand.

In the Gutter

If all you can find is a section of gutter instead of a downspout, close off both ends and dip material into it horizontally instead of vertically.

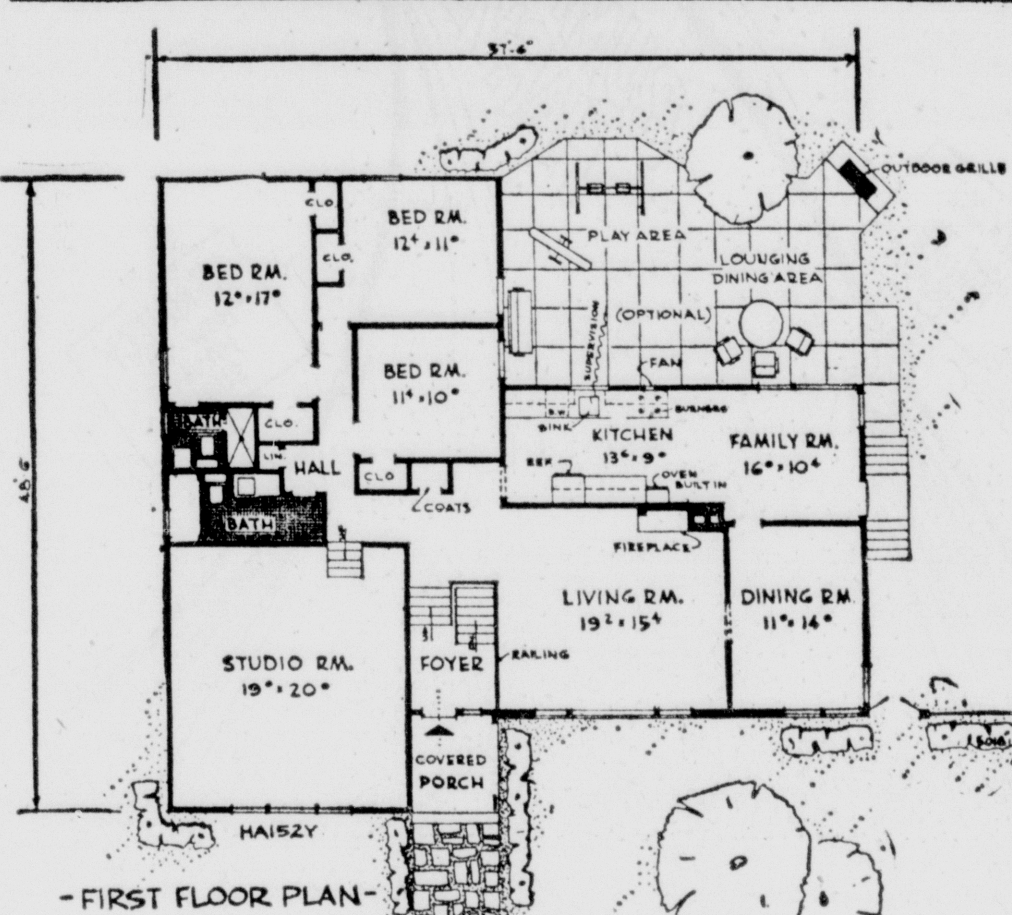

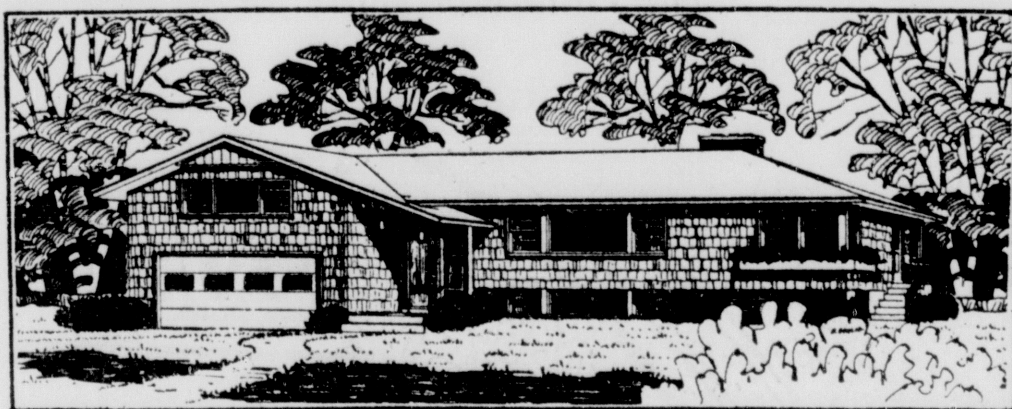

Coffee cans, cigar boxes lined with foil, tin cans generally and jars all make good dipping tanks.

After a piece is dipped, allow it to drip in the tank before pulling it completely out. As it dries you'll want to catch some of these drips with a brush before they dry.

Hang or Lean

Pieces can be hung from a clothesline to dry, leaned against string or wire that's been stretched taut between two nails, or leaned against a box or fence so that only a narrow edge touches.

Never fill the dipping tank or even come close to it. The paint will overflow as soon as something is dipped in it. Experiment with small amounts until you have just enough to cover.

BI-LEVEL RANCH: A lot of house on two levels, yet with the look of a ranch—that's this well-planned design. On the first floor are living, dining and family rooms, kitchen, three bedrooms and studio room. A recreation room with fireplace and storage space is on the lower floor. The house has 2 1/2 baths and a two-car garage and counts 2,471 square feet of floor space. The plan is HA152Y, by Architect Herman H. York, 90-04 161 St., Jamaica, 32, N. Y.

Storage Room Found In Unlikely Places

Even in the best - designed homes there generally is a need for more storage space. Families grow and so do the number of their belongings.

The Western Pine Association suggests a few possibilities for locating extra room. The trick is to find wasted space for built-ins, shelves and cabinets.

Perhaps on the back of the kitchen door or a cabinet door there is room for a shallow bank of shelves for canned goods or tapes. In an old kitchen a unit might be built under the sink, and the same thing might be done under a bathroom basin.

Pine region lumber is excellent for creating such shelves or built-ins and also works well in a bedroom where, perhaps, a handsome window seat could hold blankets and out-of-season clothing. There might even be wall space for a built-in wardrobe closet.

Storage room sometimes can be found under the stairs and attic rooms often afford space under the eaves.

Exterior Colors Solve Problems Of 'Look-Alikes'

Large development builders today have largely overcome one of their "sins" of the immediate post-war housing boom — row on row of look-alike houses.

Margaret Hargreaves, a leading California color stylist, says exterior color has played an important role in giving development homes more individuality.

Miss Hargreaves, who color styles thousands of homes annually in the Los Angeles area, says she considers the roof the common denominator of color for a home, and chooses its color first.

"Whether seen in a single house or as part of a development from a moving car, the roof is the 'largest visible area, so I frequently specify asphalt shingle roofs of different colors to keep each house from being lost in a monotonous sea of roof-tops," Miss Hargreaves

Built-Ins Add Cash Value To Any House

The trend toward built-in appliances evident in new homes — an inspection during National Home Week is a logical one. Women like them for their looks and efficiency, and men like them because they add value to the home.

Recognizing the added value of built-in appliances, the Federal Housing Administration has liberalized its loan policy to make dream kitchens materialize for many a family. FHA-insured loans for both new construction and remodeled houses now cover built-in appliances such as electric dishwashers and electric refrigerator-freezers.

Women like the integrated look built-in appliances give a kitchen. A continuous flow of countertop and cabinet fronts, uninterrupted by joints and dirt-catching spaces is efficient as well as attractive, women find. Every inch of kitchen space can be used for storage and work areas. With simplicity of design, a kitchen can come alive with color and texture without looking "busy."

Women today want automatic electric dishwashers in their new kitchens to save the hours hand dishwashing takes and to keep the kitchen neat. Dirty dishes go from the table directly into the dishwasher after scraping, even if they're not to be washed until later.

New electric refrigerator-freezers are another "most-wanted" appliance. Designed with straight lines and squared-off corners that fit flush with cabinets and walls, even the free-standing units look built-in. Like other modern kitchen equipment, new electric refrigerator-freezers are more efficient than those a few years old. Because better insulation is used, they hold more food without occupying additional floor space. Food compartments store more fresh food for longer periods. Large freezer sections keep quantities of frozen foods in the zero-zone for months.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: We want to repaint the metal cabinets in our kitchen. What kind of paint should we use?

ANSWER: Use a semi-gloss or gloss enamel, depending on whether you like a moderately shiny or very shiny finish. If the old paint still has a gloss to it, it must be removed before the new paint is applied. This can be done by sanding, steel wooling or putting on a special liquid designed for that purpose. If the old paint is worn down to the metal, it should be primed with an anti-corrosive metal primer before applying the enamel.

QUESTION: We recently bought a house with an FHA-insured mortgage, basing our purchase on the fact that an FHA appraiser found the house in good condition. Now we find termites in the place—and the exterminator says they apparently have been there for some time. Is there any action we can take against the FHA for not discovering the presence of the termites?

ANSWER: A Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in North Carolina recently upheld a Federal District Court decision holding the FHA responsible for losses incurred by home buyers relying on faulty appraisals. But I wouldn't dare comment about our specific case. Only a lawyer can advise you.

Variety Keynotes Hardwood Floor Style Offerings

There are choices galore in selecting a hardwood floor, interior decorators point out. In fact, they add, the wide selection helps account for hardwood's overwhelming popularity as flooring for homes.

Besides oak, a traditional favorite, the homemaker can choose among such extensively used woods as hard maple, beech, birch and pecan.

Should none of those species suit milady's fancy, she is practically certain of finding the answer to her flooring requirements in such other beautiful woods as walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak. All of these species may not be stocked regularly by lumber dealers, but they are readily available on order.

Variety of styles offers another wide area of choice. Here the homemaker can select from the four basic styles of hardwood flooring—strip, plank, block and parquet, with variations within each style. Many home owners nowadays are achieving a high degree of individuality in their decorative plans by choosing a combination of styles.

Waving the Tattered Shirt

Sooner or later, a Democratic candidate for president gets around to the depression of the '30s.

It isn't as fashionable as it used to be to run against Herbert Hoover, but waving the tattered shirt of the depression is standard practice.

Sen. Kennedy has started his shirt-waving in one of the most depressed areas of the country, central and southwestern Illinois. He recalled corn prices of 10 cents a bushel and high interest rates when he spoke in Springfield.

The implication was clear: it always is when a Democratic presidential candidate waves the shirt. The Republican party, which tends to reflect the point of view of the management of U.S. enterprise, is about to inflict hard times on wage earners; that is what Democrats imply that Republicans like to make — wage earners squirm.

The other part of the implication is that Democrats know how to avert hard times. They will not let anything bad happen. They will take a firm grasp of the country's problems and solve them quick as a wink.

FUN IS FUN in politics, but the tattered shirt is worn out with waving.

The Democratic party had no more idea than a rabbit what to do about the worldwide slump that paralyzed U.S. enterprise in the '30s. Enterprise remained paralyzed under both the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations, until it was jarred off dead center by the boom that began in 1939, when Germany launched World War II.

The only thought contribution of the Democratic party and its spokesman then to the riddle of sluggish enterprise was huge appropriations of public money to pay debts to the unemployed. When candidate Kennedy talks in 1960 as if his party could make new employment opportunities, he is talking nonsense.

No one should know better than a financier son that employment opportunities are made by capital investment, not by robbing Peter to pay Paul and writing the record of the robbery on the federal cuff. That is simply a gimmick to inflate the volume of money without starting the printing presses.

Perhaps in the remaining weeks of the campaign, Sen. Kennedy will get together with his brain trust to produce a proposal to bring boom times to central and southwestern Illinois. Perhaps they will bring out a tucky mining industry. Perhaps they'll figure out some way to let farmers produce surpluses that will sell for top-dollar prices.

THE UNITED STATES has unemployment in 1960. Economists say it is an inventory readjustment that was set into motion by the longest steel strike in history a year ago last summer.

Most economists think unemployment will work itself out because consumer buying is continuing at a high rate, using up goods. They think it is significant that the American people are confident of their ability to go from where they are to still higher levels of productivity and prosperity.

But economists who think this way did not foresee that in the 1960 presidential campaign one candidate would wave the tattered shirt and talk about the depression that would ensue if voters elected his opponent.

Loss of confidence is a psychological phenomenon as well as an economic phenomenon. There are enough people hammering at U. S. confidence in the United Nations without any help from Sen. Kennedy, who certainly wouldn't relish the job of being chief executive if he had destroyed confidence beforehand.

Confidence cannot be turned on and off like deficit financing. It must be built. It must be maintained. It should not be abused — not even in an attempt to win a presidential campaign.

Taxpayers Pay For the Hot-Heads

The rule of thumb is that a million dollars' worth of pure heroin is worth five million when it has been diluted and distributed for use by its victims.

The four-million-dollar consignment picked up by U.S. narcotics agents in New York City last week would have been a $20 million business if it had not been seized.

But even that does not begin to show how expensive heroin turns out to be in the United States. This poppy-derived narcotic is one of the most troublesome causes of crime—not only because of what it does to its users but because of what they must do to support the narcotics habit.

The alcoholic who must raise the money to buy his bottle of whisky each day can support his affliction at a fraction of the cost that burdens the narcotics addict. As a head-head's habit worsens, his daily expense easily may rise to more than $20 a day. But as the habit worsens, the addict's ability to earn money declines.

The desperate addict's recourse is robbery, burglary and organized vice. Thus, the ultimate cost of hot-heads is borne by taxpayers. And ironically, the same taxpayers pay for the fight to keep narcotics out of the country, which has the net effect of subsidizing an artificially high price for the narcotics that get into the country anyway.

What the world needs is a blight that will kill the poppy plant as devastatingly as the Dutch elm disease kills elm trees.

They Must Be the First to Go

The word from Columbus is reassuring. The safety department of the Ohio Division of Highways will work hand in hand with the Ohio Department of Welfare to stop legally blind persons from driving automobiles.

Obviously, blind persons must be the first to go in any drive to make Ohio highways safer for motorists. There are 336 Ohioans who are legally blind yet are licensed to drive cars under Ohio's haphazard licensing law.

But before the illusion is created that blind persons are a terrific highway hazard, it would be a fine idea to ask for their records. How many highway accidents have blind persons caused in the last five years? The last 50 years?

Granted that they shouldn't be driving automobiles, must not it also be granted that in the few cases where they do drive automobiles they are incredibly safe? We hear about irresponsible kids with soup-up cars, drunks, chronic speed demons, semi-professional clock beaters, escaping thugs and sleepy-time boys killing themselves and one another. But we do not recall hearing about anyone legally qualified to receive help because of blindness being held in connection with any of the ghastly accidents commonplace on the highways.

By all means, blind drivers must be the first to go. But what category of drivers will be next? We nominate those who boast of going in a half hour where it takes the rest of us an hour to go—the cheerful killers who like to push the pedal to the floor and keep 'er there.

Once Over

Imaginary conversation between a baseball fan and a foreign diplomat long limited to events at U.N.:

Diplomat: There's an enormous crowd here. There must be something extra important on the agenda.

Fan: Yes, the RBI issue is up for settlement.

Diplomat: What's RBI mean?

Fan: Runs batted in.

Diplomat: Is there to be a vote on it?

Fan: No; it's a matter of power demonstration.

Diplomat: What's going on down there now?

Fan: It's just the workout and practice preliminary to the real battle, just as in those U.N. fights.

Diplomat: What's that man wearing a steel mask and chest protector for? Does it mean Khrushchev has ignored his Manhattan limits and will get into this disturbance, too?

Fan: Nikita ain't in the lineup but he would surprise nobody getting into the act. If he can't, he will probably blame Hammarskjold.

Diplomat: Do I hear somebody pounding a table with fists?

Fan: It's just a baseball cash customer arguing at the hot-dog counter.

Diplomat: Are all those men assembling at the home plate neutrals about to offer a resolution?

Fan: There ain't a neutral in the place. They are managers and umpires discussing ground rules.

Diplomat: What are ground rules?

Fan: No U.N. delegate would understand. But the effect is the same as reaching an understanding on how many bases a dictator can get on a long driven insult and whether a fist which smashes a table but bounces back onto the field is good for two bases or a home run!

Diplomat: What are those flags?

Fan: The newly discovered colony of Pittsburgh and the old capitalistic State of Stengle Land.

Diplomat: Who is that who just came to bat with a feather duster and insisted upon straddling the plate.

Fan: THAT MUST BE NEHRU!

THE 7:30 O'CLOCK CURTAIN at Broadway shows is not a success. Too many theatergoers are determined to get to theater at a time when they can be trampled on by people who don't finish their cocktails before 8:30.

A soup company stock is among the few going up in stock market. In a slump more people have to live on it.

Smoking in class has been prohibited at Princeton after a quarter century because of expense of cleaning up matches and butts. ("Are you cleaning up ashes more and enjoying it less?")

Allen Funt's Candid Camera finally landed a well-deserved big spot on TV after more than a decade. It has new format with Arthur Godfrey in the act.

Godfrey gives it a warm touch but takes too much time away from camera episodes and makes the big mistake of taking the surprise element out of them by a complete forecast.

Funt, who always got the candid camera working fast and often, is just a straight man for Arthur.

It was Funt's complete mastery of the show that made it so fast moving.

The Farm Problem

The Enduring Man

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It was noteworthy that in Sen. Kennedy's listing of the horrible examples of Republicans from whom he aspires to deliver us, only the names of Harding, Coolidge, Landon, Wilkie and Dewey were mentioned.

Note that one name was missing from his category of Republican rascals — the name of Herbert Hoover. And so, after many years, a Democratic candidate for president is not running against Hoover.

This remarkable change is due to the fact that after being the object of many years of partisan attack, the ex-president has emerged as one of the most revered individuals of the nation.

He has been called to the public service by Presidents Eisenhower and Truman and has labored with great dignity, moral force, and enlightened public service far beyond the span of life allotted to most men.

At 86 he is working a dozen hours a day in his apartment in New York, keeping seven or more secretaries and research assistants busy; personally answering thousands of letters; meeting with his friends, including the notable men of his time.

Usually he has guests at breakfast, lunch and dinner. He gives advice when asked, encouraging at all times the energies of younger men in asserting the moral leadership of the United States in the world.

IT WAS HOOVER who first urged the nomination of Henry Cabot Lodge as Nixon's running mate. That was a manifestation of discernment which the popularity of Lodge as a candidate is proving.

While Sen. Johnson has become almost the forgotten man on the Kennedy ticket, there is no doubt even among Democrats that Lodge is a great asset to the Nixon ticket.

As thousands can testify, the writing of an authoritative book is a prodigious task. It involves research, consultations, and hours, days, and weeks of writing.

Hoover in his present task must direct research through hundreds of thousands of letters, memoranda and official documents here and abroad.

He writes the text laboriously in longhand, days on end at his desk in his study. He must check the typescript and the proofs.

Most professors half Hoover's age believe that one book in three years is a real achievement.

In 1951, when Hoover turned 77, there appeared the first of three thick and well-documented volumes of his memoirs. He was in his 80 year when President Eisenhower called him to the immense task of making a survey of the United States government.

That became the Second Hoover Commission, and the report comprised a whole shelf of books, all of which Hoover was required to plan supervise and edit.

These labors were broken by trips to Germany in 1954 and Belgium in 1958.

As a sort of by-product of his major "American Epic" he produced his "Ordeal of Woodrow Wilson in 1958, a best-seller.

Within the past 12 months two sizable volumes of "An American Epic" have been published, and half of Vol. III is in the hands of the publisher, to appear early next year.

IN THESE DAYS when corporation executives, professors, and many others are considered past their usefulness and are retired at 65, this personal example of usefulness is something monumental.

It is a challenge to our customs and traditions.

It is vivid proof that in general we waste our years. We do not wear out with work.

And the volumes of "An American Epic" are not simply dry statistical reports. They are a moving story of American generosity in the period after World War I began in 1914 to the present.

In 45 years our help has saved the lives of more than a billion human beings.

The man who initiated these programs of help says this of the American effort:

"The return to our people has come through the demonstration to the world of ideals and power of a free people. And we have satisfied our conscience that we have not neglected our duty as 'our brother's keeper.'"

This is something to keep in mind these days, while in a forum which in large measure was provided by the United States, we are assailed as "imperialists" and "colonizers" and "exploiters of others' misery" by the rulers of nations, including the Soviet Union, which have been the glad recipients of this help.

Real Issues Missed

Presidential Debates Hurt Electoral System

Irrespective of which presidential candidate is supposed to have made the "better impression" on television's "great debates," the fact remains that when a theatrical exhibition, with 2½-minute comments by the party nominees, is substituted for a dignified presentation at length of the issues of the campaign, the American electoral system is hurt rather than helped.

Logically, if the stunt means that people are going to select a president largely on the basis of how likeable he is on the screen, then the day may come when a Bob Hope or a George Gobel or crooners like Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra will be given consideration by national conventions — for, on the basis of a winning personality, they would be regarded as sure "vote-getters."

Television could readily have set aside two hours a night for an exhaustive discussion of the principal issues separately by each nominee over a period of several days in the last two weeks of the campaign and this would have helped the American voters to become more familiar with the basic questions.

In a sparring match that is called a debate, the slick phrase and the smart answer take the place of the reasoned statement.

WHAT IS WRONG with the reading of a speech prepared by each candidate after a thorough study of fundamental issues?

Why isn't there a demand upon each candidate that he present comprehensively, and not in smart-aleck sentences, his views on the burning questions of the day, as for instance:

1. "What do you propose to do, if elected president, to prevent the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to innocent bystanders in a strike like that which suspended operations on the Pennsylvania Railroad or in a strike like that which stagnated the whole steel industry a few months ago?"

"What do you propose to do to recover or get adequate compensation for American properties which now have been confiscated by Castro? Would you use the military forces of the United States to protect them, or would you do nothing but 'protest' through the Organization of American States or the United Nations?"

3. "What do you propose to do to maintain the free-enterprise system in America against encroachment by the federal government in the field of natural resources as well as in business generally?"

4. "What do you propose to do about the right of citizens to work at their jobs and to prevent them from being ousted by unions as a punishment because they do not believe in being members of organizations that participate in politics and endorse candidates with whose views these same workers may differ?"

5. "What do you propose to do to prevent the cost of living from going higher and the purchasing power of the dollar from declining further?"

6. "What do you propose to do to keep the federal government from using appropriations of its money to influence the state school systems in what they teach, as is done in Communist countries where the central government controls education?"

THERE ARE OTHER vital issues which the candidates are avoiding. They talk in generalities, because this is considered the politically expedient thing to do but a television presentation in which each candidate has plenty of time to explain his viewpoint and to bring even prepared declarations to the speaker's table would give the American people more real information than they can get out of a staged performance with the type of panel questions now being employed that cannot possibly be answered thoroughly by either candidate.

The "Great Debate" on TV is a discouraging development in American politics. Showmanship has converted the duel between the candidates into a dramatic contest in facial make-up and theatrical tricks.

A presidential campaign involves grave decisions for the American people. They are entitled to know exactly how Sen. Kennedy's policies in dealing with Khrushchev will differ from those of President Eisenhower, which Vice President Nixon endorses but which the Massachusetts senator says have lost "prestige" for America.

The people of the United States are entitled to know, moreover, what steps military and otherwise will be taken by their government versus the Soviet Union to maintain peace—now Communism's invasion of Africa will be checked.

The people have the right to be informed so that they may determine for themselves whether a change in administration policies will mean peace or will unwittingly encourage the Communists to intensify their "cold war" and perhaps plunge us into a "hot war."

Families with young men of draft age want to be told what lies ahead for them—and it is a safe bet that the "great debates" on television will not thoroughly inform them on vital points such as these that could mean the difference between life or death for their boys.

Bacteria Counter

By THOMAS HENRY

An electronic device just announced by the Army Chemical Corps promises to free medical researchers of one of their most time-consuming tasks, counting bacteria.

Much research in the field of medical biology is dependent on getting an accurate count of these organisms, so minute they are invisible to the naked eye.

Under standard procedures, a fluid containing the bacterial to be counted is spread thinly over a plate and incubated. Each individual germ gives rise to a colony of thousands which is large enough to be seen as a dot on the plate. Visual counting of the colonies can take hours. The new device yields the total in a second.

The instrument functions by scanning the surface of the incubated plate with a narrow pencil of light. The ray moves across the plate 1,000 times a second, completely scanning the surface by advancing about the width of a hair for each line of scanning. Changes in optical density between the plate surface and the opaque colonies are detected by a photomultiplier tube.

"The operating secret of the device," says a corps report, "lies in the action of its 'memory'—a quartz ultrasonic relay line—which keeps track of the details of the previous tour of the scanning pencil across the plate."

Electronic circuits compare these two records to determine which colonies are being encountered for the first time.

"Each new colony is counted in the registers of the machine. Repeated scans of a previously recognized colony are canceled out by the comparing circuits, and hence not counted. Sources of error are not large in relation to other experimental errors inherent in biological research."

The apparatus is expected to find further use in counting other invisibly minute objects.

Appeal to All Motorists

All of us are proud of our children and glad that they are able to be back in school after a fine summer vacation. We are, as parents, concerned about their safety when they are traveling to and from school.

Any crossing is dangerous but we feel that the intersections at Franklin, Ohio, Maple, and Aetna Streets present a particularly dangerous situation. The students arrive at these troubled spots at the same time at noon that the shop traffic is heaviest.

As drivers, I am sure all of us are interested in the safety of our children, but some of us seem to forget ourselves in our hurry to get to a given destination.

The school patrol boys appear to be doing a commendable job, but too often careless drivers ignore the flags of the patrol and on one occasion at least, one driver swore at the patrol for stopping traffic to let 20 children cross. Certainly we should help protect the children instead of finding fault with those serving to protect the young lives.

As good citizens, let us work together in unison in an effort to make the streets safe for everyone.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I need your help again. This time on a different subject. How much should an 11-year-old boy eat?

This may sound stupid but it's a serious problem at our house. Our son weighs 90 pounds.

He can eat more than my husband. It's nothing for him to devour six or eight biscuits at breakfast. He never seems full. He'll drink as many glasses of milk as we'll give him.

I'm afraid if I take him to a doctor he'll develop a complex or worry that something may be wrong with him. When he told me he ate three big hamburgers and drank five bottles of pop at a school picnic I decided to write to you. Please advise me.—PER- PLEXED.

Dear Perplexed: You might as well ask me how high is up. I can't tell you through the mail if your son is eating too much. You tell me he weighs 90 pounds but you don't say how tall he is, so I can't even tell you if he's overweight.

Take this boy to a doctor and let him advise you. He should have a periodic physical check-up and this could be part of it. Also, stop talking about what the boy eats in his presence. Some kids would eat a basket of tacks dipped in axle grease to get attention.

When he brags about drinking five bottles of pop at the school picnic I suspect he may be over-eating to show off.

Hairdo Ado

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and going steady with a boy 21. We've been going steady for six months. Yesterday was our first big argument. He won't let me wear my hair up.

My mother says it looks neater up than down. I like it because it's cooler and more comfortable. He says it looks cheap and sexy. He claims my personality even changes when my hair is up.

I asked him if it was all right to wear it down with him and up when he's not around. He said, "No, I want everyone to see you as I do—wholesome and lovely."

I know you can't tell me which way it looks best but may be you can tell me if you think he's being too domineering. He claims he wants what's best for me. Please answer.—B.D.

Dear B.D.: If you were engaged to this fellow I'd say you should wear your hair as he likes it. Under the circumstances I think he's being unduly possessive and he should not make such demands.

He may mean well, but hair—up, down or sideways—should not be THAT important.

Ticklish Subject

Dear Ann: I'm going steady with a very nice clean-cut guy. He has a habit of tickling me and it just drives me nuts.

I am more ticklish than most people and I have begged him to please not do it. He says it's all in fun and I should be a good sport.

I've tried tickling him back but he is not a bit ticklish and it doesn't bother him a bit. He also likes to wrestle with me in fun and I don't like this either.

My father says it's "revolting" but he's old-fashioned and very conservative about everything.

What are your ideas on this? It's no laughing matter any more.—FRANCINE E.

Dear Francine: Tickling and wrestling may look like nice clean fun on the surface but they are attempts to wear down your resistance. Tell the big ape "hands off" and make it stick.

Dear Ann Landers: What does a person have to do to get a letter in the paper? I've written to you five times and asked you to print my letter but you never did. All my letters had a purpose—to tell certain people off. In this crazy town everybody reads your column.

I've had several run-ins with neighbors and relatives and the best way to get my side of the story before the public is to write to Ann Landers.

I gave you five chances and you failed me. I'll never write to you again.—MAD AT YOU.

Dear Mad: Well, you finally made it. Congratulations.

Sorry, but it isn't possible to print every letter. I do my best to make balanced daily selections.

This is an advice column, not a national bulletin board for people to "get their side of the story before the town."

Anyone who wants help can get it by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me. Thousands do it every week. Be my guest.

Two-Timing Sister

Dear Ann: I won't beat around the bush. I need help and fast.

My kid sister who lives with us is making a play for my husband. Opal is 17, a high school junior and to look at her you'd think she was a chorus girl in a burlesque house.

I've begged her not to paint up so but she pays no attention. She wears skin-tight skirts, two inches above the knee (no girdle).

I suspected something when she used to sit on Bill's lap and he had a time getting her off. She used to walk around the house without much on but I put a stop to that.

Yesterday I heard him tell her she'd better behave like a lady or "I'll tell your sister."

My mother is in poor health and lives in a small town 90 miles from here. I took my sister in because she hated the small town and wanted to attend high school here. Please tell me what to do. I'm a wreck.—BILL'S WIFE

Dear Wife: Ship her back yesterday. You should not keep a girl in your home who behaves like a cheap hussy—sister or no sister.

Spare your mother the details. Tell your sister if she straightens around you may let her come back for her senior year but that she'll have to look like a lady and behave like one and do as you say.

Gratitude or Insult

Dear Ann: I need your opinion to win (or lose) a bet. Yesterday a friend of mine received her eyeglasses which she had left at someone's house. The package had 9 cents in postage on it.

My friend said she was going to send the party who had returned the glasses 9 cents in postage. I asked her, "What in heaven's name for?" She replied, "To show my appreciation."

I told her that this was poor manners, if not an insult.

I suggested she send the person a note if she wants to show appreciation. She said I was wrong and we bet on it. Please settle it.—L.A.K.

Dear L.A.K.: A note would be the proper way to express thanks.

To send the person 9 cents would be in poor taste. People who count pennies are petty. The time and trouble involved in returning the glasses were far more meaningful than the few cents spent on stamps.

Mrs. Dennis Wright

Comanisi, Wright Nuptials Held In Christian Church

Home from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, William Dennis Wright and his bride, the former Sandra Katharine Comanisi, who were married Oct. 1, are residing at 444 Ohio Ave.

The wedding took place at 2:30 p.m. in the First Christian Church with Rev. Harold Deitch officiating at the double ring ceremony. White gladioli and mums decorated the altar.

Mrs. Oliver Davis sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Ruth Berry presided at the organ.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Michael Harvith of 637 Woodland Ave. and the late John Comanisi. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wright of Maple St. are parents of the bridegroom.

Mr. Harvith gave his stepdaughter in marriage. Her bridal gown of tulle and Alencon lace was styled with a chapel train. The bodice was accented by lace appliques as was the full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was fastened to a lace crown edged with pearls and crystal drops. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. White mums and stephanotis were combined in her wedding bouquet.

Miss Janet Barton, maid of honor, and Miss Janet Lucas, bridesmaid, wore dresses of olive green silk organza and carried colonial bouquets of mums. The junior bridesmaid, Paula Koenreich, and the flower girl, Beth Koenreich, wore dresses of gold silk organza and headpieces of white mums.

Wilbur Leatherberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Leatherberry of Hanoverton, a senior at United High School, has been honored for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test given last spring.

Mrs. Donald R. McCartney

Rowena Mae Winters Weds Donald McCartney At Lisbon

Miss Rowena Mae Winters wore a 125-year old family heirloom, a gold bracelet engraved with forget-me-nots and carried the Italian handmade linen handkerchief of a friend when she became the bride of Donald Ray McCartney Saturday evening at 7:30 in Trinity United Presbyterian Church at Lisbon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rondo Winters of Lincoln Highway, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCartney of Salem RD.

Mrs. Vernon Duke presented nuptial music at the organ and Mrs. Thomas Richardson of Columbiana sang "Oh Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The Rev. C. O. Armstrong, pastor, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and white roses, enhanced with lighted tapers in seven-branch candelabra.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace. The molded bodice featured a high neckline with petite collar highlighted with opalescent sequins and seed pearls and long tapered sleeves. Tiers of lace formed the bouffant skirt and swept into a chapel train.

A peaked cap matching the dress held in place her fingertip veil of silk illusion, trimmed also in sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid corsage and cascading satin streamers.

Mrs. Robert Easlerday of Pittsburgh was matron of honor. Her ballerina length gown of light blue silk organza was styled with a scoop neckline and satin bows at the waist. She wore a floral headpiece.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Joy of Salem, Mrs. Russell Gains of Alliance, cousins of the bride, and Miss Betty McCartney of Salem, sister of the groom. They were attired in deep blue gowns of identical style to that of the matron of honor and all wore pearl earrings, gifts of the bride, carrying colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations to match their headpieces.

Nancy Joy of Salem and Bon-

Sinsleys At Home After Fall Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Sinsley Jr. are residing near Salem, following their marriage Sept. 17 in the New Waterford United Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the former Miss Patricia Elise Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Wilkinson of New Waterford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Sinsley Sr. of Columbiana.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Chalmers H. Goshorn Jr. Mrs. Frances Taylor of New Waterford was organist for the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white lace, featured a scalloped neckline and hemline. A sequined crown held her veil. White roses topped the white Bible which she carried.

Her only attendant was Miss Betty Strawhecker of East Palestine, who appeared in a rose lace gown, and carried rose-colored carnations.

James Stark of Salem, brother-in-law of the bridegroom was best man. The ushers were Ray Esterly of Salem, cousin of the bridegroom, and Larry Rupert of New Waterford, uncle of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests followed in the social room. The couple attended Fairfield-Waterford High School. Mr. Sinsley is employed by Theron's Foodliner. The couple honeymooned at Niagara Falls.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

DALLAS, Texas. If I read the message right, a speech has been hurled as a challenge here which may be remembered as long as the Alamo. It was delivered by a United States Steel Corp. vice president whom hundreds of newsmen followed almost night and day not too long ago.

Larry told the unions to change this attitude if they want industrial peace. Larry also rejected such labor-management summit conferences as George Meany suggested to President Eisenhower.

The steel executive also replied indirectly to a suggestion of steel union lawyer Arthur Goldberg, now one of John Kennedy's closest advisers on labor.

GOLDBERG has asked for a labor-management-public board to advise future presidents on future labor crises.

Such parleys would be as "potentially dangerous," said Larry, as compulsory arbitration which would have some government board fix prices and profits as well as wages.

Turning to the national union chiefs, Larry laid it on the line. Labor's philosophy, Larry said, "seems to involve the concept that a union is insecure as long as there is any group of employees anywhere who may have chosen not to rely upon the bargaining services of a union."

"It seems to involve the concept that a union must stay at arm's length from the employer and, in fact, cultivate the image that the employer is the natural enemy of the employees, who must be beaten down from time to time."

"It seems to involve the concept that a bargaining settlement must be a 'victory' for the union rather than an acceptable accommodation of mutual interests."

"In short, it has seemed to postulate requirements for union security which are completely at odds with the successful operation of the competitive enterprise system."

THERE WERE other criticisms—including a charge that unions are so big they may some day control the nation politically and economically. But what will stir union chiefs most is Larry's call to action.

"Communications," said Larry, "May be an overworked word, but it is certainly an underworked art from the management standpoint." He meant communications between the employer and his work force.

"With or without union objections," said the steel company executive, "American business management must proceed to re-develop communications with its employees."

"If employees do not understand the economic facts surrounding the company in which they work... if they have no sound basis for appreciating how their interests are tied to their company's financial health... how can a company complain if employees blindly follow union leadership which, for its own political purposes, may follow a course of constantly smothering the opportunity of free enterprise... That should do it."

Western Auto Store Moving to New Site

Grand opening of the Western Auto Associate Store in its new location will be held Thursday, Thomas C. Hone of 745 E. 5th St., the new owner, announces.

Mr. Hone, who recently purchased the store from Richard E. Lawrence of RD 2, Salem, has moved to quarters at 240 E. State St., former site of Smith's Grocery. The Western Auto store previously was located at 199 S. Broadway. It was operated by Lawrence for 23 1/2 years.

Hone was the owner of the Arrow Hardware Co. at 495 W. State St. prior to its destruction by fire March 21. He has been in business in Salem since 1953 when he moved here from Girard and purchased the hardware store.

Besides carrying a large line of auto merchandise, Hone plans to feature other hardware items.

DARK TORRENT OF GLENCOE by Edward Grierson. An episode from the history of Scotland which contains all the elements of clan rivalry, plots with and against the English, young lovers, and treachery which make scottish history tailor made for exciting novels. Here the MacDonalds are the victims and the Campbells the perpetrators of a deed which stained the name of Campbell for many years, deservedly or not.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Karl D. Harsh

MINERVA — Mrs. Marjorie M. Harsh, 50, of 207 Thomas St., died of a cerebral hemorrhage at 10:10 a.m. Sunday in Aultman Hospital in Canton, where she was admitted Thursday.

Born here, Sept. 17, 1910 she was the daughter of Charles Fultz and Anna Mangus Fultz.

She was a member of the First Christian Church, Alpha Rho Sunday School Class and Esther Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

She and her husband, Karl D. Harsh, owned and operated Harsh's Lunch and Billiards here for the past 15 years.

Besides her husband, who suffered a heart attack Sunday and is a patient at Aultman Hospital, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. William Palmer of Minerva, Miss Sandra Harsh at home; two sisters, Mrs. Homer Morrison and Mrs. Robert Greenwood of Minerva; and a half-brother, Orion Fultz of Sebring.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Gotschall-Hutchinson Funeral Home here. Rev. Arthur Poll of the Christian Church and Rev. Richard Rothman of the Church of God will officiate, with interment in East Lawn Cemetery here.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m., where Eastern Star services will be conducted at 6:30 p.m.

Neither Driver Hurt In Car Mishap Here

Two Salem drivers escaped injury in a mishap at 5:18 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of W. State St. and the Benton Rd.

The cars involved were operated by Melvin I. Steer, 33, of RD 2, Salem, and Elsie A. Smith, 55, of RD 1, Salem. Both cars had been stopped for a traffic light, police said. Smith told police that she ran into the rear of the Steer vehicle after it had started up from the light and then stopped again. Neither driver was cited.

As Kennedy Arrived, Departed Boy Charged In Attack on 5-Year-Old

Kennedy

introduced Rep. Hays, who presented Sen. Kennedy.

"Hays declared in his brief introduction, 'I served with both Nixon and Kennedy. And if everyone knew these two candidates like I do, Kennedy would get every vote in the country on Nov. 8.'"

Ohio Senators Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, who were scheduled to accompany Sen. Kennedy to Salem, did not appear.

Nearly Mobbed by Crowds

The reception Kennedy received following his address approached mob action as the crowd surged forward for a closer look at the candidate when he stepped down from the speaker's platform. Police had difficulty clearing a path for him to return to his car at Reilly School.

It was the first time a presidential candidate had spoken here for as long as most old-timers could remember.

A motorcycle ridden by Auxiliary Policeman John Vigor of Youngstown bumped the rear of Kennedy's car and toppled over when the pace of the car was slowed abruptly at the north edge of Salem on the return to the Youngs own airport. Kennedy had the driver stop his car and hopped out to inquire whether Vogt was hurt. He wasn't.

Earlier yesterday, the senator drew vast crowds when he spoke in Youngstown and Warren. Estimates were that 65,000 persons heard him in the square at Youngstown and 42,000 at Warren.

The senator's motorcade also passed through Girard, Niles, Canfield and Boardman.

The enthusiastic crowds which greeted Sen. Kennedy on his 100-mile swing brought renewed predictions from Democratic party leaders that Kennedy will win the state's 25 electoral votes in the election.

Following his appearance here, he was told by Gov. DiSalle, "If you can draw a crowd like this in a Republican county, you have no thing to worry about in Ohio in November."

The senator chose the steel centers of Youngstown and Warren to stress the slump in steel production. He said the Republican administration was partially to blame for what he called the "steel crisis."

Kennedy's reception was wild all along the route. He stopped his motorcade briefly at several places to shake hands with people gathered along the roadside, pat babies and accept bouquets and small gifts.

In Girard, where no stop had been planned, he stopped, took a hand microphone and told several hundred persons gathered around his convertible that if elected he would "work at the presidency 365 days a year."

The senator arrived at Youngstown Municipal Airport from Washington shortly before 2 p.m. Riding with Kennedy at various stages of his tour were the representatives from the three congressional districts he visited — Michael Kirwan of Youngstown, Robert E. Cook of Kent and Hays.

For the speaking program at Reilly Stadium, Atty. Guy Mauro, county vice chairman of the Democratic party, introduced Gov. Michael DiSalle, who, in turn, introduced Rep. Wayne L. Hays. The latter introduced Sen. Kennedy.

Mayor Dean B. Crammer had given the address of welcome earlier.

A flag-raising ceremony was conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion color guards, while the American Legion Quaker City Band and the Leetonia High School band joined in playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Suzettes majorettes team from Columbiana also performed earlier and county candidates were introduced. The Rev. S.T.G. Whitney of the Episcopal Church gave the invocation.

Boy Charged In Attack on 5-Year-Old

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Police quoted a 14-year-old boy as saying he got "a shock, like sticking your finger in an electric socket," when he critically stabbed a 5-year-old girl with a small knife as she kicked and screamed at his attempts to molest her.

The girl, Sally Ann Hayard, was reported still in critical condition today but improving after a five-hour operation. She suffered a stab wound of the chest and nine puncture wounds of the abdomen. Her left cheek was slashed from forehead to the chin.

Her alleged assailant, Leo Reilly Jr., was charged with assault with intent to rape, kill and ravish, and aggravated assault and battery by knife. Authorities said the girl had not been raped.

Detectives said Sally Ann was enticed from a playground in the center of the housing project where she lived at dusk Saturday by Reilly who promised her candy.

Officers quoted Reilly, released last August from a home for boys after serving a year for aggravated assault and battery, as saying he carried the child inside the basement of a nearby home.

Late Saturday night, Sally, reported missing by her mother, Doris Hayard, 29, was found in a corner of a wooden storage bin. Detectives said they were led to Reilly by Francis Knoll, 14, who told police he had seen him enter the basement with a little girl.

lots. Some car windows were broken so that the vehicles could be removed from the gates.

One woman was arrested in Syracuse for failing to obey a police order to halt her car.

About 6:00 IUE members appeared at their Syracuse quarters for a 5 a.m. meeting.

In Schenectady, some sections of the fence at the plant had been taken down, reportedly to make it easier for non-strikers to enter the plant grounds.

With picket activity lessened, some of the Schenectady non-strikers entered the main gate in small groups. Others reported for work through gates in suburban Rotterdam, into which the plant spreads.

A state of emergency was declared in Schenectady after violence flared last week. The plant employs 22,000, of whom IUE claims to represent 8,700.

Jury Selected In Wellsville Assault Case

LISBON — A jury was selected and opening statements were made in the case of William Thomas, 44, of Wellsville who was indicted by the recalled grand jury for assault with intent to rape a woman last June 3 near 16th and Commerce St. in Wellsville.

The jury was sworn in by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard who then recessed court for morning break. Opening statements will be given by both the defense counsel and Prosecuting Attorney G. William Brokaw, who will then start with his prosecution witnesses.

Prieto was described as "the chief delegate of United States-based counterrevolutionary forces" and Walsh as the field commander of the armed bands.

Meanwhile, the semi-official newspaper Sierra Maestra reported from Santiago in eastern Cuba that 15 additional members of an armed group that landed in Cuba last week had been captured.

The newspaper said Salvart was among those rounded up but gave no further identification.

Man Held In Murder Of Australian Boy

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Colombo police today arrested Hungarian-born Stephen Leslie Bradley on a warrant stating he would be charged with the kidnap-murder of Graeme Thorne, 8, of Sydney, Australia.

Police said Bradley was arrested on the British liner Himalaya and will be held here to await extradition to Australia.

Graeme Thorne disappeared on his way to school July 7, less than a month after his father won 100,000 pounds—$224,000—in a lottery. The same day, a ransom demand for $56,000 was made, but never collected.

The boy's battered body was found Aug. 26.

ized. Considerable damage was done to the front end of the car.

Three persons were hurt in a three-car accident at 7:45 p.m. Sunday on Rt. 164, three miles south of North Lima. Injured were John E. Weaver, 24, of RD 5, Salem, laceration of the chin; Myrtle Bailey, 46, of Hanoverton, shoulder injury; and Ellen Coler, 22, of Poland, neck injury.

The Patrol said a car driven by Ernest Baker, Jr., 20, of Leetonia, was stopped to make a left turn and another car operated by Howard Bailey, 46, of Hanoverton slowed down behind him when the third car, driven by Weaver, failed to get stopped and smashed into the second car which, in turn, hit the Baker vehicle.

Mrs. Bailey was a passenger in the car driven by Howard Bailey. The Coler woman was riding with Baker. None of the injured was hospitalized.

All three cars were damaged. Weaver was arrested for failing to stop within an assured clear distance.

Chain-Reaction Crash
Two persons were injured in a four-car accident at 11:15 a.m. Sunday on Rt. 45, just south of Salem near the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

Injured were Mrs. James Howard, 30, of Empire, O., lacerations and contusions of the scalp; and Mrs. Edith Dorsey, also of Empire, bruised knee. Neither was hospitalized.

The accident occurred when three cars, stopped at the train crossing, became involved in a chain reaction when rammed from the rear by a fourth car which failed to get stopped. Arrested for failure to stop within an assured clear distance was James Charles Howard, 57, of Empire. The two injured women were both passengers in his car.

Other cars involved were operated by Noah Junior Crom, 30, of Leetonia; Richard M. Brown, 39, of Steubenville; and Hubie Lee Martin, 44, of Steubenville.

With The Patients

Melvin Dole of 910 E. 3rd St. is reported in good condition at City Hospital, where he was admitted early Saturday morning following a highway accident one mile east of Salem. He suffered lacerations of the chin and contusions of the body.

Bucs Bounce Back to Deadlock Series With Yankees

Cold Facts Favor Pirates In Remaining Games of Classic

Haddix to Hurl Against Stafford In Fifth Tilt at New York Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is hard to believe that the Bouncing Bucs, so thoroughly humiliated by two successive one-sided defeats, were all even today with New York Yankees at two victories apiece in the best-of-seven series for the world championship.

It is even harder to believe that the same pitiful Pirates of two days ago, who apparently were on the way to four straight likings following their opening game triumph, actually are in better shape than their Yankee tormentors.

True, the odds-makers continue to make the Yankees a strong 9-5 favorite to capture the Series despite the Pirates' comeback 3-2 victory before 67,812 Yankee Stadium fans. New York is an 8 to 5 choice to win today's fifth game. But the odds-makers are not reckoning with these hard, cold facts:

Pirates May Have Edge

1. The Pirates must be conceded an edge on the mound today with their veteran southpaw Harvey Haddix, an 11-game winner during the regular season opposed by rookie right-hander Bill Stafford, who had a 3-1 record following his promotion from the Yankees' Richmond farm last summer. Pittsburgh still has the edge even if Casey Stengel switched to Art Ditmar, as he indicated he might. Ditmar failed to last an inning in the first game.

2. No matter what happened today, the Pirates were assured of returning to Forbes Field, where they've won 52 of 77 regular season games this year, for the sixth game on Wednesday. And should the Series go all the way, the deciding game also will be played in the Pirates' home den on Thursday.

3. The Pirates appear in much better shape for pitching during the balance of the Series. They have Bob Friend, their 18-game winner, primed for the sixth game. Friend was fairly effective in the second game before bowing out for a pinch hitter in the fourth inning. If a seventh game is needed, Vern Law, who has turned in both Pittsburgh victories undoubtedly will try to become the first three-game winner since Lew Burdette turned the Yankees in 1957.

If Ditmar fails to see action today, he is the likely choice for the sixth game with Whitey Ford probably getting the nod over right-hander Bob Turley in the possible seventh and payoff meeting. Ford, the brilliant left-hander, who blanked the Pirates Saturday, has never won a Series game away from home, losing all three decisions.

Murtaugh said Pittsburgh's heart-in-the-mouth victory Sunday was "typical" of his team. The Pirates got good pitching, good defense and earned their runs the hard way — by scratching and clawing and causing the opposition to make mistakes.

"The game we play the day before doesn't mean a thing to us," he said, referring to Saturday's 10-0 shellacking (there was also that 16-3 defeat in the second game). "We've been counted out a half dozen times but we've always come back."

The pirates got the good pitching from starter Law and from reliever Elroy Face. They got brilliant defensive play from center fielder Bill Virdon and third baseman Don Hoak. They got timely hitting from Law and Virdon. But the biggest help to them were a couple of Yankees — Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson. The pair was responsible for half the Yankees' eight hits and both their runs but their mistakes in the field paved the way for the Pirates' runs.

Cimoli Starts Rally

It all happened in the fateful fifth inning. Gino Cimoli, playing in place of the injured Bob Skinner, singled for the first hit off Ralph Terry.

Smoky Burgess followed with a slow grounder toward first. Skowron grabbed the ball close to the bag and tried for the force but Cimoli beat the throw. So, instead of there being one out and a runner on second, there were two on and nobody out.

Hoak, ordered to sacrifice, elected to push a bunt past the pitcher but sent a low pop to Richardson instead. Since a bunt is not an infield fly and therefore not an automatic out, Richardson could have trapped the ball and turned it into a double play. But the second baseman decided to catch it instead.

After Bill Mazeroski popped up — this was an infield fly and an automatic out — Law batted a double to left scoring Cimoli. Virdon followed with a Texas League single over the infield to score Burgess and Law with the second and third runs.

This stood up all the way despite some anxious moments in the seventh and ninth.

The Yankees were trailing 3-1 in the seventh when Skowron, whose home run in the fourth had given his team a temporary 1-0 lead, slammed a one-bounce double into the right field stands. Gil McDougald singled to right but Skowron had to hold up at third when Roberto Clemente made a true throw to the plate.

Richardson, who had already doubled and singled, missed a squeeze bunt attempt then bounced into a force play at second, Skowron scoring. Pinch hitter Johnny Blanchard singled Richardson to second and Murtaugh summoned Face from the bullpen.

The brilliant reliever threw Bob Cerv a fast ball and the bemused outfielder whaled it to deep right center. Virdon, racing toward the bleachers, made a spectacular running, leaping catch, holding the ball despite a hard fall on the cinder path at the foot of the wall. Richardson ambled to third after the catch but was left there when Face tossed out Tony Kubek.

The little right-hander retired the next six batters but received another scare in the ninth. Skowron, leading off the last inning, first missed a homer with a long drive to right that curved foul at the last moment, then smashed a sizzler inside third. Hoak made a brilliant stab and threw him out.

Warren St. Mary's Topples Springfield

Winless Springfield Local gave powerful Warren St. Mary's all it could handle for two quarters but got snowed under in the second half and fell 40-8 in a Turnpike Conference game played Saturday at Warren.

Springfield Local took an 8-6 lead into the dressing room at halftime. Ron Wire tallied the Tigers' touchdown and Jim Allen carried over the extra points.

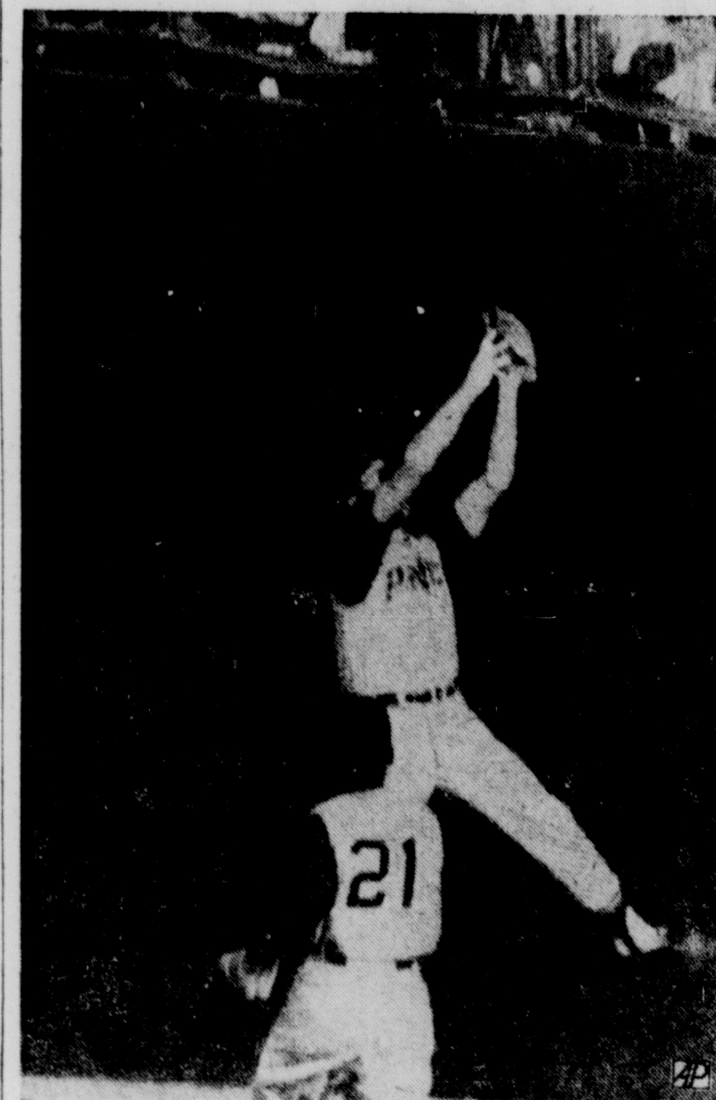

Warren St. Mary's shares the Turnpike Conference lead. Both have 2-0 loop marks. Springfield Local dropped its fifth straight, including three in league play.

Smother Illinois, 34-7

Battling OSU Buckeyes May Be Best in Loop

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Any student will tell you that Ohio State's 1960 football team is like the fabled Phoenix of ancient Egypt.

The Phoenix, a miraculous bird, after being consumed by fire, rose in youthful freshness from its own ashes.

A year ago the Buckeyes were literally consumed by fire as they faltered through a 3-5-1 season, but the rejuvenated kids of 1960 are climbing the heights toward gridiron glory.

No one, including Coach Woody Hayes and his assistants, was too impressed by the 24-0 win over Southern Methodist and the 20-0 nod over Southern Cal in the openers.

But Saturday, as Illinois' fourth-ranked unbeaten team celebrated its 50th homecoming, the Bucks had everything for a 34-7 victory. Billy Wentz, granted an extra year of eligibility, ran 102 yards with the second half kickoff, giving the Canton boy the longest gain in Ohio history. Fullbacks Bob Ferguson and Roger Detrick plunged two yards for touchdowns, quarterback Tom Matte scooted 57 yards on an option play, and halfback Bob Klein raced 42 for the other scores.

The Bucks were underdogs by three points, but Hayes had too many people doing too many things and the result was a resounding upset. Like a 10-fingered boy trying to stop 11 holes in a dike, Illinois just couldn't plug everything.

A year ago the Bucks opened against Duke, Southern Cal and Illinois, and had a 1-2 record with a 14-39 scoring deficit. This year, at the end of three, the Ohioans are 3-0 and lead the scoring by 78-7.

Next week the Bucks go against Purdue's Boilermakers at Lafayette, Ind., and Jack Mollenkopf's crew will be on the rebound after losing 24-13 to Wisconsin on a pair of last-half touchdowns. Purdue has a 1-1-1 record after tying UCLAL 27-27 and whumping Notre Dame 51-19.

Despite the varied scoring methods against Illinois, Ohio State clung mostly to its quarterback-fullback offense. Of the 330 yards rushing, fullback Ferguson ate up 82, fullback Detrick 23, and quarterback Matte 129 for a total of 234.

Freshman quarterback Jim Schwartzhoff tallied Sebring's only touchdown on a two-yard run in the second quarter.

Poland scored 28 points in the first quarter, 16 in the second, 14 in the third and 8 in the fourth. Duncan Ingraham gave a quick indication of what was to follow when he ran the opening kickoff back 85 yard for a touchdown.

Bill Zimmer raced for three touchdowns and tallied two extra points to run his four-game point total to 48.

The win was Poland's fourth straight and moved Coach Bill Van Brocklin's team into a tie with East Palestine for the Tri-County League lead. Both have 3-0 loop marks. They are scheduled to meet on Oct. 28 at East Palestine.

Pro Football Player Dies After Game

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Howard Glenn, a football player for the professional New York Titans, died in a hospital Sunday night shortly after he played in an American Football League game.

One of two doctors who treated the 25-year-old Negro said Glenn may have suffered some sort of brain injury.

"A statement about the cause of death cannot possibly be made at this time," said Dr. Franklin M. Rivers.

"It appears to be a cerebral accident of some sort."

Rivers said Glenn, a guard from Vancouver, Wash., returned to the bench after a series of plays. He complained of feeling tired.

Glenn was sent to the dressing room. He showered, took some pills and drank a soft drink.

By the time the game was over Glenn had become belligerent and wanted to fight, Rivers said. He became hysterical and went into a stupor.

"He never came out of the stupor," the doctor said.

Other Buckeye Teams Do Well

Ohio U. Hits Big Time With Win Over Boston

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — How about those Bobcats of Ohio University?

Hampered all last week by a series of heavy colds and upset stomachs the 'Cats turned a 19 point underdog role into a smashing 36-6 victory over Boston University in beatdown Saturday.

The Athens avalanche was voted the No. 1 team among the nation's smaller colleges in the opening Associated Press poll last week, and they made it stick with a vengeance as they trampled the Boston big college representative.

Just two weeks ago top-ranked Syracuse won over the same Boston team by 35-7, so Ohio U. had a point edge each way over the pace-setters.

And Penn State, which Saturday defeated Army 27-16, triumphed only 20-0 over Boston Univ. Holy Cross, which Saturday held Syracuse to a 15-6 win, was beaten 20-14 by Boston Univ. a week ago.

The Bobcats, along with the rest of the Mid-American Conference, have been seeking "major college" rating. It has been denied on the ground a team must play half its schedule against major foes—an impossibility for the Mid-American teams unless the entire conference moves up.

While the Athens juggernaut of Bill Hess was zooming to its fourth straight win, Ohio's other colleges were winning more than their share of interstate games. The Buckeye clubs won 8 of 11 against out-of-state foes over the weekend, for a season record of 28-9-2 and a scoring edge of 861-451.

Bowling Green edged into the top spot in the Mid-American loop with 3-0, handing Western Michigan its second one-point defeat by 14-13. Kent State surprised everyone with a 22-19 victory over Miami on the Redskins' home lot.

Muskingum won 35-14 over Denison to take the Ohio Conference top spot at 3-0, but co-champions

Wooster and Heidelberg, along with Ohio Wesleyan and Oberlin, are still unbeaten in the sprawling league. Western Reserve and Allegheny moved into the leads in the Presidents' Conference with 2-0, and they meet Saturday to determine which will remain there.

Pacing the Mid-Ohio with 2-0 are Ohio Northern and Bluffton.

Otterbein's once-beaten team (7-6 by Heidelberg) leads the state in scoring with 161 for four games, but Muskingum with 135 in three has the best average. Ohio State and Oberlin, each with one enemy touchdown, top the defensive list. Ten of the state's colleges are unbeaten, five haven't won a game.

Ohio University, having disposed of Dayton and Boston Univ., both rated as major colleges, takes on "big college" Xavier next Saturday at Cincinnati. Other big ones on the 23-game program are:

Ohio State at Prudue, Marshall at Kent State, Bowling Green at Toledo, Heidelberg at Wittenberg, Denison at Wooster, Wichita at Cincinnati, Allegheny at Western Reserve, Louisville at Dayton, Miami at Villanova, and Kentucky State at Central State.

NFL Has Edge Over AFL in Clash at Gate

By The Associated Press

The National Football League averaged over 37,000 fans a game for its six weekend contests compared to an 18,000 average for a trip of clashes in the New American League.

The largest NFL turnout was the 49,825 who clicked the turnstiles at Detroit for the Lions-San Francisco game Sunday while 47,776 saw Los Angeles at Chicago. The senior circuit total for the day was 224,917.

An estimated 21,000 turned out at Dallas for the Oakland-Texans AFL game with 55,377 attending the three games.

Columbiana Gives Canfield 28-16 Licking

A 16-point spurt in the second quarter enabled the Columbiana Clippers to overcome an 8-6 first quarter deficit and go on to defeat the Canfield Cardinals, 28-16 Saturday at Canfield.

Columbiana opened the scoring when little Dave Garrod hauled in an aerial from Dale Murphy early in the first quarter. The play covered 33 yards. An attempted kick for the extra point failed.

Canfield took the lead when Jack Raver raced 46 yards for a score and Koning hit Chapman with a pass for the extra points.

Paul Murphy and Rich Harrold each scored for Columbiana in the second quarter. Murphy's touchdown came on a 29-yard run and Harrold's on a 40-yard pass play. The Clippers converted both extra point attempts, one on a pass from Dale Murphy to brother Paul Murphy and the other on a run by Dale Murphy.

Canfield registered its second touchdown when Bill Alcott scampered 17 yards to paydirt in the third quarter. Raver added the extra points on a pass from Koning.

Paul Murphy then scored his second touchdown of the afternoon on a 23-yard pass play.

The victory for Columbiana was its third in four games. Canfield has won three and lost 2.

Injury to Bally Ache Ends Racing Career

By The Associated Press

The fabulous racing career of Bally Ache, a 3-year-old for whom a syndicate paid $1,250,000 last spring, has ended.

The heir apparent to the divisional title broke down during the running of a tune-up race last Saturday for Hawthorne's $100,000 Gold Cup race scheduled for this Saturday. X-rays showed no bones were broken but trainer Jimmy Pitt said the son of Ballydam "undoubtedly is through racing."

Unbeaten Beaver Local Gridders Blast United, 30-6

Eagles Outplay Foes In 1st Half

Speedy Ron McLaughlin of Beavers Adds to His County Scoring Lead

By BOB JULIAN

Sweet revenge!

Before a capacity Homecoming crowd Saturday afternoon the Beaver Local gridders turned back United's Golden Eagles, 30-6 at Beaver to give the winners their first triumph over United since the two schools were built.

The win was Beaver's fifth straight without defeat.

United suffered its third setback in five starts.

The leading scorer in the county, Ron McLaughlin, paced the Beavers to victory as he tallied two touchdowns, two extra points and passed for a third TD. McLaughlin chalked up 14 markers in the day's activities to give him 84 points for the season.

Beaver received the opening kickoff from United and after registering one first down they turned the pigskin over to the Golden Eagles. The Eagles got into hot water right from the start as quarterback John Hanna heaved a pass on the third play and as the ball sailed through the air, McLaughlin picked it out of the sky. The interception gave Beaver the ball on United's 41 yard line.

WITH McLAUGHLIN and Dale Beagle doing most of the toting, the Beavers moved to paydirt in nine plays with Francis Passage carrying over from the three yard stripe. Carl Hoppel added the extra point and Beaver led 8-0 with the first period almost over.

United started on its own 40 yard line in the second period and in 17 plays covered the remaining distance with Hanna logging the pigskin over for the score from the one yard line. Hanna's pass to Paul DeVille slipped out of the receiver's hands and United trailed 8-6 at intermission.

Both teams were a grind-em-out type eleven and neither took to the airways much in the first half. United punched out 91 yards in the first 24 minutes, while Beaver chalked up 78 yards. Beaver passed once and United attempted three heaves and connected on one. At the start of the third period, United received and could move the ball only five yards.

BEAVER STARTED on their own 27 yard line after United's punt and in four plays they had traveled to the Eagles 49 yard stripe. Quarterback Mike Klembara then faded back to pass and let one fly straight down the middle into the waiting arms of the fleet Ronnie McLaughlin for a 49 yard scoring pass. McLaughlin had faked out the entire United secondary and was all alone when he caught the aerial. The play covered 73 yards in five carries.

McLaughlin took a pitchout from Klembara and scampered into the end zone for the two points and Beaver had a lead 16-6 at the three quarter pole.

In the final period the Beavers exploded for 14 markers.

United unsuccessfully tried to pass its way to a first down after Pete Schweigert recovered Klembara's fumble on Beaver's 30 yard line and had to turn the ball over to Beaver on downs. Beaver promptly marched 65 yards in 11 plays to rack up its third touchdown.

IN THE SCORING drive Klembara reeled off a 32 yard run and he passed three times for a total of 23 yards with the final six being the scoring payoff as he hit McLaughlin in the end zone. McLaughlin then ran the extra points and Beaver led 24-6 with 3:45 left in the game.

Beaver's final six pointer came after Bob Passage pounced on United fumble on the United 18 yard line. The fumble was a result of a mix-up in the Eagle backfield.

On the first play from scrimmage McLaughlin tossed an 18 yard scoring pass to end Gary Williams who went into the promised land standing up.

Wayne Hickman's run for the extra point was no good but Beaver had the game locked up, 30-6, with seconds left to play.

United filled the air with passes in the final seconds to try and push a score over but the ballgame ended with United sopped on the Beaver three yard line.

Beaver Local was a very good defensive unit in the second half and Coach Jack O'Rourke attributed this feat the turning point of the game.

In the second half United could manage only 19 yards net rushing due to the stiff forward wall thrown up by the Beavers. Beaver churned out 79 yards in the second 24 minutes.

BEAVER ACCUMULATED 15 yards on the ground and not one Beaver back was thrown for a loss all afternoon. The winners accounted for 90 yards via the airways to give them a 247-133 total yardage advantage over United.

Ron McLaughlin was the workhorse of the Beaver offense as he lugged the pigskin 14 times and tallied 76 yards.

United put the brunt of the ball carrying on two men. Larry Marks and Dan Jenkins toed the ball 13 times each with Marks netting 42 yards and Jenkins 53 yards.

Both teams were well-balanced in the tackling department. Ron McLaughlin led the Beaver defense with nine tackles and was followed by Gary Berhar with seven and Francis Campbell with six.

United's stopping duo of Whitey Willis and Pete Schweigert accounted for six and seven tackles, respectively. Ken Metzgar notched seven and Alan Knizat got six. Willis now has 61 tackles in five games and Schweigert has nailed 20 in two tilts.

At halftime Sue Layne was crowned Beaver's Homecoming Queen by last year's Queen Judy Croft. Sandra McKenzie was runner-up. Janet Veness, Betty Evans, Margie Taylor and Terry Holden completed the court.

Next Saturday Beaver will try for its sixth straight win as it entertains Southside. United will be on the road Saturday as they travel to Western Reserve.

West Branch Chalks Up 22-8 Victory

Coach Ralph Zurbrugg's West Branch Warriors stormed to their fourth victory in five games as they dumped McDonald, 22-8, Saturday night at Salem's Reilly Stadium.

Quarterback Chuck Wilson carried over two touchdowns for the Warriors on runs of 15 and 4 yards. Fullback Joe Meissner hit paydirt on a two-yard plunge. The four extra points also went to Meissner on runs.

The first half was a defensive battle with West Branch leading by just 8-0 at intermission. The Warriors made it 22-0 in the third period before McDonald averted a shutout with a fourth-quarter touchdown.

West Branch will play at Salem again next Saturday at 8 p.m. when once-beaten North Lima, 58-6 victors over Jackson-Milton Saturday, will furnish the opposition.

McDonald, which slipped to a 2-3 season record, will be at home to unbeaten Lowellville Saturday.

ARKANSAS, which had been rolling along as the strong favorite to win the Southwest Conference title, fell before Baylor, 28-14.

Arkansas faces another roughie in Texas this time around, while Baylor plays Texas Tech. The following week Texas gets its shot at Baylor.

Navy, No. 6 in the poll, stopped Southern Methodist, 26-7, and has a date with the Air Force Academy this week. The Fly Boys lost to Missouri, 34-8, Saturday. Clemson, No. 8 and the top candidate for the Atlantic Coast Conference title, coasted to a 21-7 triumph over Virginia, while Kansas No. 10, trounced Iowa State, 28-14.

Waterford Park Reaches Half Way Mark In Season

Waterford Park reaches the half-way mark of its 31-day fall racing season this week, with the final afternoon of sport programmed for Saturday, Oct. 29.

Topping the week's racing will be the Rolling Rock Handicap at seven furlongs on the turf, attractive to the best sprinters on the grounds. In his most latest start Royal Mustang Jr. set a new world speed mark over the distance 1:21 4-5 at the West Virginia oval, and is expected to be back in action over the coming weekend. Voyante, narrowly defeated by Royal Mustang Jr., is another prospect, as are Stolen Secret, Boxer, Extension Please and others.

SALINEVILLE LOSES 42-6

The Salineville Indians went down to their fourth straight defeat after one victory as they were whipped 42-6 by an invading Stanton Local eleven Saturday.

RAMBLING WRECK — Though on the small side, Billy Williams, junior, is best blocker in Georgia Tech backfield.

Syracuse May Lose Top Rating

College Football Poll Due for Shaking Up

By The Associated Press

Is Syracuse, the powerful defending national football champion heading for a fall?

For two weeks now, Ben Schwartzwalder's outfit has found the going rough.

Against Kansas, the Orange won by one touchdown, 14-7. There was some cause for that. The Jayhawks are a good club, capable of winning the Big Eight championship.

Last Saturday, Syracuse barely stumbled past winless Holy Cross, 15-6.

Directly ahead is Penn State, perennial Eastern power and apparently just beginning to find itself. The Nittany Lions rebounded from a defeat by Missouri to whip Army, 27-16 Saturday.

If Penn State plays like it did against Holy Cross, Schwartzwalder's behemoths are in for trouble.

After Penn State, Syracuse' only big problem appears to be Army on Nov. 5.

Mississippi, No. 2 behind Syracuse in the current Associated Press poll, has no great problem in Tulane this week. Ole Miss swept past Vanderbilt in a Southeastern Conference game Saturday, 26-0, but Vandy already had been beaten twice.

More significant than Mississippi's third victory was the downfall of three other pretenders to Syracuse's throne—two in the Big Ten and one in the Southwest Conference.

Both Illinois and Purdue, rated Nos. 4 and 7, respectively in the AP poll, were well beaten. Ohio State, No. 5 humiliated Illinois, 34-7, and Wisconsin clobbered Purdue, 24-13.

That makes Iowa, No. 3 and a 27-15 victor over Michigan State, and Ohio State the favorites for the Big Ten title. They meet on Nov. 12. Iowa takes on Wisconsin this week and Ohio State is at Purdue.

Arkansas, which had been rolling along as the strong favorite to win the Southwest Conference title, fell before Baylor, 28-14.

E. Palestine, Salem Jayvees Tie 16-16

The Salem and East Palestine High School reserve football squads battled to a 16-16 tie Saturday morning at East Palestine.

This was the first game of the season for the Quaker Jayvees. East Palestine is 2-1-1 for the season.

Fullback Fred Kaiser and quarterback Bill Beery scored Salem's touchdowns, each on runs of about five yards. Dave Edling and John Panzotti successfully carried over the extra points.

The two evenly-matched teams traded touchdowns for touchdowns. The Bulldogs tallied first and the Quakers tied it up on Kaiser's run and Edling's extra points. After the Bulldog Jayvees went ahead again 16-8, Salem knotted the score late in the third quarter.

Bob Martin and Sebastian Lapina coached the Quakers who will play at home next Saturday at 10 a.m. against Minerva.

THE REFEREE

CLIFF MONTGOMERY

The use of a fifth football official, the back judge, is becoming more widespread.

He is required in the professional leagues and all college conferences, with the exception of the Eastern, where more and more back judges are being employed. All Bowl games employ five officials and this fall for the first time you will see a back judge in the Army-Navy game.

The back judge works deep off the middle behind the defense. He takes practically all the deep plays, especially in the end zone and end lines, thus enabling the field judge and head linesman to keep closer to the line of scrimmage.

One of the most difficult plays to call is a touchdown on a forward pass deep into the end zone. The back judge, standing on the end line, can rule this very easily.

Green Bay Upsets Baltimore 35-21 in Pro Grid Headliner

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The rebuilt Green Bay Packers, molded into a title contender by Vince Lombardi, have struck the first blow against the kingpin Baltimore Colts in a determined bid to bring the smallest city in the National Football League its first championship since 1944.

The Packers parlayed a pair of pass interceptions by Hank Gremminger and two fumble recoveries into four touchdowns and shocked the two-time champion Colts 35-21 Sunday.

Lombardi, 47, former New York Giants' assistant who was one of the "seven blocks of granite" at Fordham University, became the Packers' coach and general manager after the dismal 1958 season in which Green Bay won only one game.

The Packers now are in a four-way scramble for the lead in the West with Baltimore, Chicago and San Francisco—all with 2-1

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Atmosphere vs. Your Nose, Throat

If you live where there are frequent ground fogs, you know what damage is caused by a moisture-heavy atmosphere.

You get up each morning to remove damp night clothes, put on clammy linens, fight with the windows and doors whose swollen wood structures cause them to stick like made and walk outdoors to find everything covered with a mildew that is nothing more or less than an overnight growth of fungi and molds.

Maybe it has never occurred to you but this same moisture-heavy atmosphere produces the same changes in your delicate mucous membranes, particularly those of your nose and throat.

THAT'S WHY, for example, many of us have restless nights, due to the difficulty of breathing through clogged nostrils; early morning headaches, due to blockades of sinus openings by swollen membranes; and the distressing nuisance of getting rid of accumulating secretion that have collected in the back of the nose and throat as the result of overactivity on the part of these swollen membranes.

Now if you've learned that nose drops, pain-killers, antihistamines, vitamins, gargles and what-not give you temporary relief, at most, and no protection whatsoever in preventing these nuisances, perhaps you'll be interested in attempts to strike at your problem at the roots. That is to say, by dehumidifying your home, at best, or your bedroom, at the very least.

Now if you are in a position to do so, purchase a room air conditioner which, in the long run, will prove an economy by effecting a sharp reduction in the steady drain of medical bills. With the aid of a combination room thermometer and hygrometer (the latter measured per cent of moisture in air), work out the ideal settings for your room.

MOST OF US work and sleep best when the room temperature is between 65 and 70 degrees Fahrenheit and the hygrometer measures between 35 and 60 per cent. And, if the idea of making these observations alarm you, I can assure you they take no more skill than the reading of instruments on your dashboard.

If you cannot afford an air conditioner, you might see what you can accomplish with bags containing chemicals that take moisture out of the atmosphere or with electrical de-humidifiers that you merely plug in a convenient socket.

Unfortunately, I'm afraid you'll find that these less expensive devices accomplish very little that is measurable. But they're worth a try until you can afford room air conditioning.

And, for Pete's sake, don't let anyone argue you out of using an air conditioner (not an air cooler) on the ground that it will invite infection through chilling and draughts.

Because that just isn't so. Of those of us who've been using air conditioning over these many years in our offices and homes wouldn't be here to deny the charges.

Another column will take up drying and humidification.

- (5) That such goods, wares, or merchandise were acquired from another store of the person conducting the sale at which he has terminated business or is in the process of terminating business;

SECTION II.
(a) No person shall advertise or conduct a closing-out sale or sell or offer to sell any goods at a closing-out sale, or by any means to be a closing-out sale without first obtaining a license to conduct a closing-out sale from the Mayor, not continuing a closing-out sale after the expiration of such license.

(b) No person shall advertise or conduct a distressed-merchandise sale or sell or offer to sell any goods at a distressed-merchandise sale without first obtaining a license to conduct a distressed-merchandise sale from the Mayor, not continuing a distressed-merchandise sale after the expiration of such license, provided that this subsection (b) shall not apply to a person conducting a sale pursuant to a closing-out sale issued under this ordinance.

(c) The name and address of the owner of the goods to be the object of the sale and the name and address of the operator of such sale, if other than the owner.

(d) The name and address of the person from whom the goods were purchased or acquired and the terms, conditions, and date of such purchase or acquisition.

(e) A full and complete statement of the facts regarding the proposed closing-out sale, including the reason why such sale is to be conducted, and the dates of commencement and termination of such sale.

(f) The means to be employed in advertising and publicizing such sale.

SECTION III.
Any person desiring to conduct a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale shall make written application to the Mayor in such form as may be prescribed. Such application shall be verified by the applicant before a person authorized to administer oaths and shall contain the following information as the Mayor may deem necessary:

(a) The name and address of the owner of the goods to be the object of the sale and the name and address of the operator of such sale, if other than the owner.

(b) The name and address of the person from whom the goods were purchased or acquired and the terms, conditions, and date of such purchase or acquisition.

(c) A description of the place where such sale is to be held.

(d) The nature of the occupancy of the place where such sale is to be held, whether by lease or otherwise, and the effective date of termination of such occupancy.

(e) A full and complete statement of the facts regarding the proposed closing-out sale, including the reason why such sale is to be conducted, and the dates of commencement and termination of such sale.

(f) The means to be employed in advertising and publicizing such sale.

SECTION IV.
No closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale license shall be issued if the Commission finds any one or more of the following facts or circumstances to exist:

- (1) That the inventory contains goods not purchased by the applicant for resale on bona fide orders without limitation of the general application of this Ordinance;
- (2) That the inventory contains goods purchased by the applicant on consignment;
- (3) That the applicant either directly or indirectly within three years prior to the date of application conducted a sale in connection with which he advertised or represented that the entire business conducted at the location designated in the application was to be closed out or terminated and such business was not closed out or terminated;
- (4) That the applicant was granted a license hereunder within one year preceding the date of application for a closing-out sale at the same location;
- (5) That the applicant has within five years preceding the date of application been convicted of a violation of the provisions of this ordinance or has had a license issued pursuant to such sections revoked for good cause;
- (6) That the inventory of goods to be sold at such sale contains goods purchased or added to the stock in contemplation of such sale and the purpose of selling same at such sale;
- (7) That the applicant has not been in business at the location for at least one year prior to the date of application unless the applicant is the devisee, or legatee of a former owner of the business or unless it is determined by the Commission that this requirement would work an extreme hardship upon the applicant;
- (8) That the applicant in the ticketing of goods for the sale has misrepresented the original retail price or value thereof;
- (9) That any representation made in the application is false;
- (10) That the applicant has sold the business or contemplated selling the business to another person who will continue the business at the same location upon the termination of the sale.

SECTION V.
No license shall be issued for a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale unless there is filed with the Mayor a bond conditioned upon the faithful observance of all the provisions of this ordinance and the indemnifying of any purchaser at said sale who suffers any loss by reason of any misrepresentation made in connection with said sale, and authorizing action thereunder by the City of Salem, Ohio, to enforce the provisions of this ordinance and to purchase at said sale for damage or loss suffered by him by reason of any misrepresentation made in connection with said sale. The amount of said bond shall be determined as follows:

10% of the first $100,000 of the inventory cost of all the goods, wares, and merchandise to be offered at sale; 5% on the next $400,000 and 2% on the balance. Said bond shall be approved as to form by the City Solicitor and as to sufficiency by the Mayor.

including the content of any proposed advertisement or publicity.

(G) A complete and detailed inventory of the goods on hand or on order and not yet received to be sold at such sale as disclosed by the applicant's records which inventory shall include only goods purchased by the applicant for resale on bona fide orders without cancellation privileges and shall not include goods purchased on consignment or goods ordered in contemplation of conducting such sale. This inventory shall not exceed the stock on hand of goods within sixty days prior to the filing of the application shall be prima facie evidence that such purchase or addition was made in contemplation of such sale and for the purpose of selling the same at such sale. No person or official shall disclose the contents of such inventory, except as may be necessary in the administration and enforcement of this ordinance.

(H) A statement of the total retail value of the inventory submitted in accordance with paragraph (g).

(I) An itemized listing of any goods on hand at the premises of the sale which are requested to be included in the sale including any goods on order but not yet received.

(J) A detailed explanation of the disposition to be made of the business and the premises upon the termination of the sale.

SECTION IV.
Upon the filing of an application for a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale license, the Mayor shall appoint a Commission of three persons who shall be citizens of Salem and who shall make investigation of the facts contained in the application and of the conduct of the sale to effectuate the purposes of this Ordinance. If it appears to the Commission that the facts are true, that the proposed sale is of the character represented therein, that the application and proposed sale are in full compliance with the provisions of this Ordinance, and that the license fee has been paid, the Commission shall approve the issuance of the requested license to the applicant and the Mayor shall forthwith issue said license. The Commission shall complete its investigation and report its findings to the Mayor. The Mayor shall then issue the license if it is filed with the Mayor.

SECTION V.
Each applicant for a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale license shall submit to the Mayor with his application for such license, a license fee in an amount equal to one-fourth of one per cent of the inventory value of the goods to be sold at said sale but in no event shall said license fee be less than $25. Any person submitting an application for a renewal of a closing-out sale license shall submit with such application a renewal license fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

SECTION VI.
No closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale license shall be issued if the Commission finds any one or more of the following facts or circumstances to exist:

- (1) That the inventory contains goods not purchased by the applicant for resale on bona fide orders without limitation of the general application of this Ordinance;
- (2) That the inventory contains goods purchased by the applicant on consignment;
- (3) That the applicant either directly or indirectly within three years prior to the date of application conducted a sale in connection with which he advertised or represented that the entire business conducted at the location designated in the application was to be closed out or terminated and such business was not closed out or terminated;
- (4) That the applicant was granted a license hereunder within one year preceding the date of application for a closing-out sale at the same location;
- (5) That the applicant has within five years preceding the date of application been convicted of a violation of the provisions of this ordinance or has had a license issued pursuant to such sections revoked for good cause;
- (6) That the inventory of goods to be sold at such sale contains goods purchased or added to the stock in contemplation of such sale and the purpose of selling same at such sale;
- (7) That the applicant has not been in business at the location for at least one year prior to the date of application unless the applicant is the devisee, or legatee of a former owner of the business or unless it is determined by the Commission that this requirement would work an extreme hardship upon the applicant;
- (8) That the applicant in the ticketing of goods for the sale has misrepresented the original retail price or value thereof;
- (9) That any representation made in the application is false;
- (10) That the applicant has sold the business or contemplated selling the business to another person who will continue the business at the same location upon the termination of the sale.

SECTION VII.
No license shall be issued for a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale unless there is filed with the Mayor a bond conditioned upon the faithful observance of all the provisions of this ordinance and the indemnifying of any purchaser at said sale who suffers any loss by reason of any misrepresentation made in connection with said sale, and authorizing action thereunder by the City of Salem, Ohio, to enforce the provisions of this ordinance and to purchase at said sale for damage or loss suffered by him by reason of any misrepresentation made in connection with said sale. The amount of said bond shall be determined as follows:

10% of the first $100,000 of the inventory cost of all the goods, wares, and merchandise to be offered at sale; 5% on the next $400,000 and 2% on the balance. Said bond shall be approved as to form by the City Solicitor and as to sufficiency by the Mayor.

SECTION VIII.
A closing-out sale license issued hereunder shall authorize the applicant to conduct a closing-out sale at the location described therein for a period of thirty days. A distressed-merchandise sale license shall authorize the applicant to conduct a distressed-merchandise sale at the location described therein for a period of thirty days. Both such licenses shall be subject to the following conditions:

- (a) The sale shall be held only at the place named in the application and only by the licensee for a period of thirty consecutive days (Sundays and legal holidays excluded unless the sale is conducted on such days) which period shall commence not more than ten days after the issuance of the license. If an applicant desires to conduct a sale at more than one location, a separate license must be obtained for each location.
- (b) Only the goods described in the inventory filed with the application shall be sold at the sale. The licensee shall be prominently displayed throughout the duration of such sale.
- (c) The licensee shall keep suitable books during the sale, at the location of the sale, in which shall be made daily entries showing:

- (1) The dollar amount of retail sales;
- (2) The dollar amount of mark-downs, without limiting the meaning of the term "mark-down" the difference between retail and wholesale prices of goods, as shown by the licensee shall be considered a mark-down;
- (3) The dollar amount of wholesale sales. Copies of such daily entries shall be submitted to the Mayor and all books of the licensee shall be open for inspection by the Mayor or his representative during business hours.

SECTION IX.
The Mayor shall revoke any license, whether a closing-out sale license or distressed-merchandise sale license, if he finds that the licensee has:

- (a) Violated any of the provisions of the chapter;
- (b) Made any material misrepresentation in his application;
- (c) Failed to include in the inventory filed with his application all the goods being offered for sale or permitted to be offered at said sale any goods not included in the inventory filed with his application.

(d) Failed to keep suitable records of said sale; or

(e) Made or permitted to be made any false misleading statements or representations in displaying, ticketing, or pricing goods offered at such sale, or in advertising such sale.

SECTION X.
The Mayor may upon application therefor and payment of the requisite fee, renew a closing-out sale license issued under this chapter for an additional period of twenty (20) days if the licensee upon the termination of such sale intends to discontinue business in the City and if the licensee has not sold substantially all the goods listed in the inventory filed with the original application. Such facts shall be sworn to by the applicant in the appropriate place on the application for the renewal of the license. An application for renewal of a license shall be accompanied by an inventory listing all the goods listed in the inventory filed with the original application, remaining unsold. Only such goods as were listed in the said original inventory and listed in the inventory filed with the renewal application may be sold during the renewal period.

SECTION XI.
No person issued a closing-out sale license shall during a closing-out sale:

- (a) Add any goods to the stock described in his inventory filed with his original application;
- (b) Sell, offer for sale, or permit to be sold or offered for sale, any goods not listed in said inventory with the representation express or implied that such goods are being sold or offered for sale at a closing-out sale;
- (c) Fail to keep any goods not listed in said inventory separate and apart from the goods listed in said inventory or fail to make such distinction clear to the public by appropriate tags placed on all inventoried goods in and about the place of sale appraising the public of the status of all such goods;
- (d) Fail to prominently tag all goods being offered for sale at a closing-out sale indicating both the true original retail price of said goods and the price at which the goods are being offered for sale.

SECTION XII.
No person issued a distressed-merchandise sale license shall during a distressed-merchandise sale:

- (a) Add any goods to the stock described in his inventory filed with his original application;
- (b) Sell, offer for sale, or permit to be sold or offered for sale, any goods not listed in said inventory with the representation express or implied that such goods are being sold or offered for sale at a distressed-merchandise sale;
- (c) Fail to keep any goods not listed in said inventory separate and apart from the goods listed in said inventory or fail to make such distinction clear to the public by appropriate tags placed on all inventoried goods in and about the place of sale appraising the public of the status of all such goods;
- (d) Fail to prominently tag all goods being offered for sale at a distressed-merchandise sale indicating both the true original retail price of said goods and the price at which the goods are being offered for sale.

SECTION XIII.
This Ordinance shall not apply to any sale conducted by a governmental agency, any sale conducted by an executor or administrator pursuant to an expressed order or process of a court of competent jurisdiction, or to any isolated sale conducted by a duly licensed auctioneer, selling at auction unless the auction sale is conducted for more than two days in any sixty-day period.

SECTION XIV.
Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned for not to exceed thirty days or both. Each sale in violation of this ordinance and each day that a distressed-merchandise sale or closing-out sale is conducted in violation of this ordinance, and each advertisement of either a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale in violation of this ordinance shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION XV.
That this Ordinance is hereby determined to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, in the City of Salem, and shall go into effect immediately for the reason that it is determined to be a legitimate business in Salem and to the public to be a closing-out or distressed-merchandise sale that are not bona fide.

Passed and adopted by the City of Salem, Ohio, this 10th day of October, 1960.

Attest: Charles E. Alexander, Clerk
Dean B. Cramer, Mayor

Columbiana Newcomers Plan Tuesday Dance

COLUMBIANA — A dance and card party for sponsors of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club, and for members and their husbands, will be held Tuesday at Dixon School.

Dancing, starting at 8 p.m., will be to Joe Hoffman's orchestra.

Friendship Night will be observed and members of the Lisbon chapter entertained when Columbiana Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. Margaret Shell and Clifford Shell, worthy matron and patron, will preside.

AMERICAN LEGION POST 290 of Columbiana will be host Friday at 8:30 p.m. at its N. Pearl St. quarters for the monthly county council meeting.

A regular meeting of Post 290 will be held tonight at 8 p.m., with Commander Al Hayes presiding.

FOUR MOTORISTS were fined for minor traffic violations in recent Mayor's Court cases here, according to docket entries. The motorist, charge, and disposition of the case follow:

John Stilwell, 19, RD 2, Columbiana, illegal muffler, $1.30 and costs;

William H. Camp, 23, 415 Fairfield Ave., same, $5 and costs; Earl F. Feller, 22, Zoar, O., failure to yield right of way, $10 and costs, and Bert L. Brinker, 78, RD 5, Lisbon, same, same.

THE HIGH SCHOOL athletic department has announced bargain admission rates for youngsters attending any of the four remaining home games of the high school football team.

Pupils in grades one through six may purchase tickets for 25 cents—if they buy them before game time. The tickets may be secured at either school building during the week for that price. At the game, the admission is 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Archie W. Kleist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie W. Kleist Sr. of Railroad St., enlisted Sept. 15 in the Navy and now is undergoing recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Articles Stolen From Auto Trunk

LISBON — The theft of tools, pipe fittings, a spare tire and a wheel from the trunk of a car northeast of Elkton is being investigated by Columbiana County sheriff's deputies.

Raymond Bott of Pine Hollow Rd. reported the theft at 12:45 p.m. Saturday.

He told deputies the articles were taken late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Department store tycoon John Wanamaker believed that trust in his stores was built from honesty in its newspaper advertisements. In the panic of 1873 his newspaper advertisements simply stated: "Checks taken from buyers. Change given in cash."

Missionary to Speak At West Branch School

DAMASCUS—Rev. Milton Coleman, a returned missionary from India, will be guest speaker at a "Learning About Others" Future Homemakers of America initiation Friday at 8 p.m. in the West Branch High School auditorium.

Special guests will be past officers and chapter mothers of the former Goshen FHA.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Louise Denny, president, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by the group sponsor, Miss Catherine Nougé.

HELD IN FATAL STABBING

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Glenn, 25, was being held by police in the fatal stabbing of his sweetheart, Miss Mary Rugley, 30, Sunday. Homicide detectives said Glenn told them he was jealous at finding Miss Rugley with another man.

LIONS CLUB TO MEET

The Lions Club will meet Tuesday at 6 p.m. at the Lape Hotel with Charles Edwards as program chairman. Information on the charter commission will be presented by John Taylor.
